New U. S. Judge Tackles Pileup Of Court Cases

Rabinovitz Begins Work in Western District of State

SHEBOYGAN (AP) — David Rabinovitz, recipient of an interim appointment as U.S. district judge for western Wisconsin, started work today on a huge backlog of cases that have piled up in the last year.

Rabinovitz, a 55-year-old attorney, was named Tuesday by President Johnson in a dramatic last-minute move before the Senate officially convened.

"I will begin reading the files of cases and laying out my work, calling in lawyers for pre-trial conferences and similar matters," said Rabinovitz as he made plans to go to Madison today. "I am sure I will do the job and the lawyers will be satisfied."

The controversial Sheboygan labor specialist resigned his post as Democratic national committeeman for Wisconsin and said he also would resign as a member of the party.

Rabinovitz was in the middle of a hearing at Sheboygan when a call from the White House advised him of the appointment and told him he had 15 minutes to be sworn in before the Senate officially convened at noon.

The State Bar of Wisconsin took an unprecedented poll of its 5,055 members on the appointment and announced that 2,040 attorneys expressed the opinion that Rabinovitz was not qualified for the judicial post, 793 gave him a vote of confidence and 697 expressed no opinion.

An American Bar Association Judiciary Committee opposed the appointment but gave no reason.

Post Purchase Of TV Station In Iowa OK'd

The Federal Communications Commission Tuesday approved the sale of Television Station KTVO in Kirksville, Mo., and Ottumwa, Iowa, to the Post Iowa Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Post Publishing Co. of Appleton.

The FCC said it was approving the sale on condition that Roger C. Minahan, an officer in both Post Publishing and the Polaris Corp. of Milwaukee, divest himself of his positions with Polaris. This is because Polaris has interests in four other television stations. Mr. Minahan has already done so.

Post Publishing reached a purchase agreement in September for the station with the present owners, James Conroy of Ottumwa and Raymond E. Russell of Superior, Wis. The purchase price was $1,225,000.

KTVO-TV is an affiliate of the Columbia Broadcasting System and broadcasts on Channel 3. It is licensed to Kirksville, Mo., and covers the twin markets of Kirksville and Ottumwa through a transmitter and antenna at Lancaster, Mo.

In addition to publishing the Post-Crescent and the Twin City News-Record, Post Publishing also operates television station WEAU-TV at Eau Claire and radio station WAXX at Chippewa Falls.

Victor J. Minahan, president of the company, said today that "purchase of KTVO is another step in the diversification program being followed by Post Publishing. We are expanding our investment and our operations into other media and other markets in order to strengthen the financial future of the company. The Post-Crescent remains the base for this expansion."

Lloyd William King of Ottumwa, who has been sales manager and executive vice-president of KTVO under the former owners, has been named general manager of the station for Post Publishing. Minahan said that no changes in personnel are planned.

Accused of Making Retarded Children Pawns for Politics In Drive for Extra Buildings

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Long smoldering political animosity in the state government exploded into an angry blaze at a meeting of the usually quiet state building commission Tuesday afternoon.

Gov. John Reynolds, Democratic executive chief of the state, and chairman of the commission, was denounced by Republican foes in the legislature in words as harsh as have been heard in Wisconsin public life for a long time.

Three of the legislature's most prominent men, also members of the commission and representing its voting majority, took turns in scolding Reynolds for what they claim are his illicit methods of political pressure to gain his objectives from the commission against the convictions of its other members.

No Reply From Reynolds
Reynolds sat without response, although with something like shock showing on his face, as he was told:

"You have substituted political press releases for leadership, but you can't lead men by brow-beating them," by Sen. Jerris Leonard of suburban Milwaukee, chairman of the Republican policy committee of the senate.

"You're doing a 'con' job."

Rapid Recovery Made by Nehru

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP) — Ailing Prime Minister Nehru was reported feeling better today after a restful night, and an associate said he might be back on the job in another day.

The Indian leader, 74, here for the annual meeting of his ruling Congress party, canceled all engagements Tuesday. Doctors ordered him to bed, saying he was suffering from weakness and high blood pressure.

Doctors summoned from New Delhi advised Nehru to take a complete rest and accept no engagements for two weeks, in the first announcement. Later "two weeks" was changed to "for the present."

But Kumarawami Kamaraj, Nadar, Congress party president, visited Nehru today and reported to the party session that the prime minister was "in excellent health and excellent spirits."

Byrnes Limits 'Favorite Son' Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who has agreed to be a "favorite son" candidate from Wisconsin for the GOP presidential nomination, said Tuesday that he would spend only a limited-time campaigning.

The 50-year-old Byrnes said that his basic responsibilities as a congressman would tend to limit the time he could devote to the campaign for delegates in the Wisconsin April 7 presidential primary.

Byrnes is chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee and ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee.

Byrnes apparently will not be required to campaign in the usual way because he is not expected to have major opposition. Major candidates such as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, have indicated they would not enter the Wisconsin primary. If either enters the primary Byrnes said he would withdraw.

Schadeberg Target For State Democrats

JANESVILLE (AP) — Wisconsin's Democratic chairman said Tuesday night that the party has made defeat of Rep. Henry Schadeberg, R-Wis., a "priority goal" for this year.

J. Louis Hanson told a 1st District Democratic caucus that Schadeberg was "part and parcel of the conspiracy of the right wing that refused to let the legislative branch of our government function."

George Romney of Michigan and Leonard Hall, right, of New York City, one-time Republican national chairman, pose Tuesday at the Washington National Press Club where Romney delivered a luncheon address. WATSON LAKE, Y. T. (AP) — Six pounds of dog food, much further we had to go. Scrounged from an empty trapper's cabin, helped sustain a Yukon Territory couple through 30 days of hunger, pain and exhaustion while lost in bush country east of Watson Lake.

William Alexander McDiarmid, 43, a trapper, and his wife, Maggie, 25, were reported in good condition Tuesday night after being flown here.

They left their cabin on Larsen Lake Dec. 5 to snowshoe to Smith River, 60 miles away. After a few days of blizzards and deep snow, they were lost.

"By that time my feet were frozen up to the knees," McDiarmid said. "We knew our way

Spending $500 Million Smaller Than Record Figures Under Kennedy

BY FRANK CARMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today a surprise budget cut to $97.9 billion, even below the current level. And he told Congress he will slash output of weapon-making uranium by 25 per cent — a move he challenged the Soviets to match.

In an unusually brief yet meaty State of the Union message, delivered in person at a joint session of Congress, Johnson also declared "unconditional war on poverty in America." He ticked off his specific policy ideas for the first time since he became President seven weeks ago following the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Johnson's proposals — many requiring action by Congress — were aimed at problems ranking from the depths of poverty to the height of the moon.

For most taxpayers, the biggest surprise probably lay in the budget disclosures. At $97.9 billion, the first Johnson spending plan would be $500 million smaller than the latest estimate of spending under Kennedy's final, record-setting budget.

Johnson described his budget as "efficient, honest and frugal." And he said it will maintain "the full strength of our defenses" while providing "the most federal support in history for education, for health, for retraining the unemployed and for helping the economically and physically handicapped."

Civil Rights Bill

Endorsing some two dozen proposals in about 2,900 words, the chief executive urged Congress to bring his programs "to a fair and final vote." He called for the strongest civil rights bill in 100 years, enactment of a massive tax cut by Feb. 1, new steps toward disarmament and selective increases in overtime pay rates.

Other Johnson programs — many inherited from Kennedy — included broader minimum wage coverage, hospital insurance for the aged, an end to discriminatory immigration quotas, a bigger housing program, and a determined effort.

State Widens Kenosha Probe

KENOSHA (AP) — Atty. Gen. George Thompson said Tuesday that his office will bring various state agencies into the John Doe investigation in Kenosha.

Thompson issued a statement saying an intelligence plan had been prepared to determine how many special investigators will work in the probe. He declined to say which agencies would join the probe or what their duties would be.

The plan has been put into effect and should take 10 days to two weeks to complete, the attorney general said. His list of participating public officials included Kenosha County Judge Harry Carlson, who is presiding over the investigation, and Dist. Atty. Joseph Molinaro, and others in Molinaro's office.

Barricades Come Down in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Roadblocks started coming down in battle-torn Cyprus today but the Greek and Turkish communities mostly eyed each other from a safe distance.

Under an agreement announced Tuesday, both sides undertook to dismantle the crossing near Hazard Tuesday. An ambulance arrived but withdrew squads of armed men the train had stopped on the who had been posted on boundaries between Nicosia's Greek and Turkish sectors since the recent communal strife.

The principal object of the agreement was to restore freedom of communications and the transport of essential supplies in the island. But there seemed little likelihood of large-scale resumption of intermingling between the communities. Leaders of both communities appealed to their followers not to venture too soon across the boundary lines.

Austrian Ex-Chancellor Believed Near Death

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The condition of former Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab, 72, deteriorated today. His physicians were said to have given up hope for him.

Raab was hospitalized Monday after being taken ill during a vacation in nearby Baden. He has been given the last rites Tuesday when a street of this of the Roman Catholic Church ancient town was named after Raab, a diabetic, suffered a stroke in 1957.

Denmark Basketball Players Die in Crash After Game

DENMARK — It had been a thrilling basketball game with Mishicot High School scoring a 69-67 upset Tuesday over Denmark High — but before the evening was over two youths lay dead in a snow covered field.

After the game, eight Denmark students decided to drive into Green Bay for hamburgers. Several of the youths left their cars parked at the high school and clambered into the nine-passenger station wagon.

On the way to Green Bay, one of the youths decided to go home, so the station wagon swung onto a county trunk. After the youth was dropped off, the station wagon resumed its trip to Green Bay.

Heading east on County Trunk MM in the Town of DePere, the station wagon flashed past the Elm View School and headed into a sharp curve. A yellow sign warned of the curve.

Lay Dead

The car entered the curve. Too late, its driver realized he was going too fast. His foot slammed onto the brake pedal. The car skidded 142 feet and swung sideways. Its right rear fender slammed into a utility pole 22 feet off the roadway. The impact nearly ripped an entire section from the car. One of the youths, seated near the point of impact, flew through the tear in the car. His head slapped against the pole and he fell to the ground, dead alongside the pole.

Harmony Goal of GOP Planners

Leaders Hold Session for New Strategy

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — A prime question faced the Republican high command today as it assembled for strategy sessions looking toward the November elections.

How to pick a presidential nominee without going through so many bitter donnybrooks that the party would be disunited for the November showdown?

This issue was not on the formal agenda of the Republican National Committee as it assembled for four days of talks on how to get out the vote, how to attract financing, how to cut down Democratic margins in big cities such as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia.

Harmony Issue
But the harmony issue was on the mind, for example, of Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman and GOP powerhouse. In effect, he posted over his state's May 5 primary a please keep out sign addressed to major aspirants for the presidential nomination.

The Ohio plan is this: The delegation will go to the national convention pledged to Gov. James Rhodes as a favorite son. Ohioans are expected to vote for him on the first ballot where they might jump after that Bliss was not prepared to say.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Hampshire, remarked that he might find it desirable to enter Ohio's primary. Bliss expressed the hope that Goldwater and all other major candidates would abstain, in the interests of avoiding a "divisive" fight.

A similar plan is under way in Wisconsin. There Rep. John W. Byrnes has agreed to run as a favorite son.

No Worries
The Democratic National Committee, convening here Saturday, has no such worries about slugging matches for the presidential nomination, since President Johnson is considered a sure bet.

The big question, not likely to be publicly decided before the convention, is: Whom will Johnson choose as his running mate?

For this spot, the stock of Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy is, at the moment, soaring.

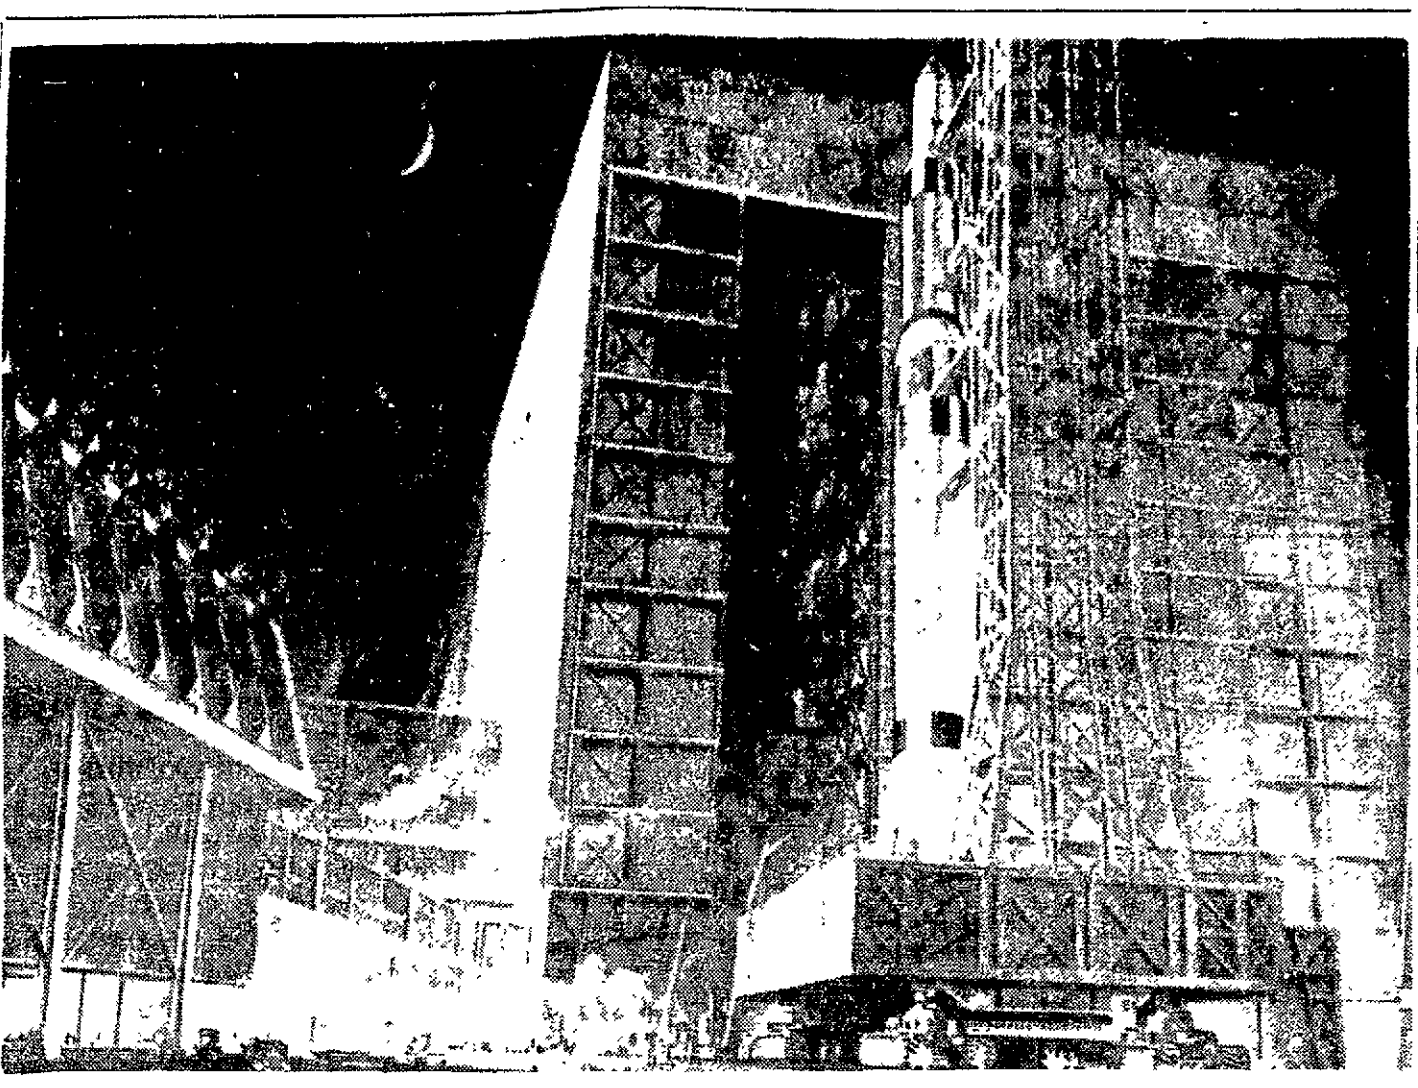

An opinion that Johnson will be easier to beat in November than Kennedy would have been voiced Tuesday by Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan. Preserving his official stance as a non-candidate, Romney informed the National Press Club he was amenable to a draft—as he said any concerned citizen would be duty-bound to be.

Goldwater Encouraged
By His Reception in New Hampshire Tour

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater — saying he was encouraged and surprised by his reception in the nation's first primary state—hits the hand-shaking trail across southern New Hampshire today to press his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I'm very, very pleasantly surprised," Goldwater said Tuesday night as he completed the first day of his New Hampshire campaign.

He shook hundreds of hands, signed dozens of autographs—and urged his campaign workers not to let the battle for the nomination produce bitterness that would divide the Republican party next November.

Switch Suspects In Stabbing of Rich Yachtsman

Woman May Have Believed Man Had Harmed Her Sister

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Spanish-born Manola Gallardo, unable to speak English, may have fatally stabbed multimillionaire William A. Bartholomae after mistakenly believing he had harmed her sister, Orange County Dist. Atty. Kenneth Williams said.

The district attorney's office dropped murder charges Tuesday against Bartholomae's sister-in-law, Carmen, 25, and booked her sister, Manola, 32, on suspicion of murder.

Died Sunday
Bartholomae, 70, a yachtsman who made an estimated $11 million in ranching, oil and mining, died Sunday morning in the kitchen of his $500,000 mansion on Newport Bay.

The district attorney said Bartholomae died in a "real, choice battle" in which he was clawed and stabbed to death. Williams said a lie detector test given Mrs. Bartholomae and further police investigation Tuesday led to her release and the arrest of her sister.

The district attorney said investigation gave this picture of the fatal stabbing:

Stabbing Described
Manola had just left the kitchen to take care of her sister's 3-month-old son. On her return, she saw her sister lying on the floor, Bartholomae leaning over her. She either thought Bartholomae had harmed her sister or was about to.

A scuffle ensued. Bartholomae was stabbed. Manola's left hand was nearly severed.

The lie detector test confirmed Mrs. Bartholomae's story that she fainted because of abdominal pains while her sister was out of the room. Williams said.

Miss Gallardo waived preliminary hearing and will be arraigned in Orange County Superior Court Jan. 16. Her attorney, Paul Caruso, said she would plead innocent.

Miss Gallardo came to the United States three months ago to help her sister care for her newborn child.

News From Washington

U. S. Monitors Sensing Reds' Missile Takeoffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: MISSILE DETECTORS: The United States is reported to have supersensitive monitors operating near the Iron Curtain that record the take-offs of Soviet missiles and rockets and can trace changes in Soviet launching sites.

Space Business Daily, a trade publication, said Tuesday that the instruments, part of a project called Headbone, record movements of all objects, even automobiles at close range. It added a method has been found for telling which are missiles or spacecraft.

The Defense Department had no comment.

RETURNING RAISES: Irked at receiving only a $100 a year pay increase, some teachers in schools overseas are returning the raise in little installments to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The protests were revealed Tuesday by E. L. Kaizenbach Jr., deputy assistant secretary of defense in charge of education for dependents of U.S. military and civilian personnel stationed abroad.

He said he didn't know how many of the teachers have been returning the money but that it is being sent back to the teachers.

WHEAT SALE: The Commerce Department Tuesday authorized the sale of an additional $42 million worth of wheat to the Soviet Union, and $10.5 million worth to Russian satellite countries.

Licenses have now been issued for export of $167 million in wheat to Russia but only one firm deal has been disclosed.

Last week, a U.S. grain trader closed a deal with the Soviet Union for sale of $78 million in durum wheat.

OTEPKA: A recently resigned State Department aide has changed his testimony again and has told Senate investigators that tape recordings were made of Otto F. Otepka's telephone conversations.

The aide, Elmer D. Hill, also told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that his former superior, John F. Reilly, knew of the taping despite Reilly's sworn testimony to the contrary.

This latest episode in the controversy over Otepka's dismissal as a State Department security officer was disclosed Tuesday when the subcommittee made public testimony from a closed session Nov. 18.

Lord Home Says Britain Must Seek Areas of Agreement

KINROSS, Scotland (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home says Britain must seek areas of agreement with the Soviet Union—while keeping up its guard.

In a speech at Kinross, Sir Alec said: "We have been proclaiming from Britain for some years now that nuclear armaments have reached such a point of perfection and multiplication that war between the Soviet Union and the West is unthinkable."

"The logic of this is that, without dropping our guard, we must seek areas of agreement with Russia and increase our contacts."

State Department accused him of leaking department security information to the subcommittee. He is appealing his firing.

SCRAP MISSILE: The Navy has given up on the Typhon anti-aircraft missile which ran into difficulties in the development program.

The Navy said Tuesday it will go ahead instead with an advanced anti-aircraft missile but will make further tests of the Typhon's radar components.

About $230 million had been poured into development of the surface-to-air missile and $58 million more was allocated this year for work on it.

Rockefeller Shies From Controversy in Slate To State's Legislature

Governor Promises No State Tax Increases for New York

BY ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today handed the Legislature a 1964 program that promised no tax increases, urged a few specific new programs but shied away from major political, home-front controversy that might damage his presidential hopes.

He proposed revisions and modifications in several specialized areas but recommended no sweeping new programs in matters of public interest and application.

The Republican governor's annual message to the opening session of the legislature advocated:

Repeal of the state's 51-year-old laws that specify the minimum size of railroad train crews.

A pay raise for state employees.

Authorization for grand jury presentments — reports that criticize public officials although no criminal charges are made.

A single, June primary in this presidential election year.

Rockefeller made no recommendations, pending the outcome of various studies and investigations, on such controversial issues as a $1.50-an-hour problems.

minimum wage, legislative ethics, liquor-license scandals, state aid to localities, proposals for more aid to education, low-income housing and tighter state control over private ownership of firearms.

Detailed Account
In a detailed account of his five years as governor, Rockefeller claimed "imposing accomplishment" in dealing with industrial growth, education and civil rights.

He hinted that "this great human progress" in New York State could be a handy blueprint for solving similar national issues as a $1.50-an-hour problems.

Tall Oklahoma City Quint Wins in Overtime

Villanova and Davidson Gain Easy Victories

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

At Oklahoma City University, more than at any other college in the country, everyone looks up to the basketball players.

Most of them are as high as an elephant's eye. Kneeling.

The Chiefs claim the tallest starting team in the country at an average of 6-foot-7 2-5. The previous record was 6-7 1-5, set by Oklahoma City University last year.

The 6-7 1-5 Chiefs were 19-10 last year. The 6-7 2-5 Chiefs are 10-3 this year, and apparently improving with height.

A leading independent year in and year out, the Chiefs continued their bid for a national ranking Tuesday night by overcoming a 16-point deficit and whipping Loyola of New Orleans 91-86 in overtime behind a tall, talented trio who produced 70 points.

Eddie Jackson, a 7-footer, led the Chiefs with 25 points, 6-2 Jerry Wells contributed 25 and 6-6 Bud Koper added 21, the three turning the tide in overtime behind Loyola's Gene Turn sent the game into an extra period with a jump shot in the final minute.

While Oklahoma City was bidding for national honors, fifth-ranked Davidson and ninth-ranked Villanova breezed to easy victories. Undefeated Davidson downed VMI 70-58 for its 11th victory and Villanova won its sixth straight by walloping St. Francis, N.Y., 84-48.

Elsewhere, sophomore Ernie Thompson scored 25 points as Bradley crushed Centenary 91-69, Billy Foster connected for 29 points in Drake's 93-88 thumping of Purdue, Gene Elmore scored 23 points and collected 17 rebounds as SMU defeated Baylor 85-65 and Barry Rodrigue's lay-up with 24 seconds left gave Rice a 61-60 decision over Texas Tech.

In other major games, Portland beat Oregon 61-58, Texas A&M crushed TCU 92-64, Arkansas nipped Texas 58-53, and Providence beat Massachusetts 89-73.

the loser will probably drop out of M-E title contention.

Neenah has a better offensive average than the Indians but Shawano holds an edge defensively. Shawano gave Kimberly the scare of the season when it forced the Papermakers into overtime before bowing by one point.

Another rivalry battle will find New London at Clintonville. The Bulldogs, who finally found the scoring range in the Kaukauna game will be trying for their first win in league play. Clintonville is 2-3 and will be aiming for the .500 mark after the 6-point loss to Kimberly last week.

Kaukauna Accepts Storm Sewer Bids

Van Daalwyk Construction Offer Of $65,944 Well Below Estimate

KAUKAUNA — Common council Tuesday night accepted low Brothers, $64,582 and $22,244.60 bid of Van Daalwyk Construction for the installation of storm sewers on 10th Street and a southside interceptor line at a cost of $65,944.

Van Daalwyk bid $48,360 for the 10th Street job and $17,584.40 for the interceptor and although his latter bid was higher, the quotation was a package deal and was most advantageous to the city. The bid was well below the estimate of $70,000 given earlier by the city engineer.

Other bids include McCarty Construction, $57,897, and $14,947 for a total of $72,845; Bower Brothers, $58,651, and $15,461 for a total of $74,112; Kisper Construction, $61,430 and $18,564 for a total of $79,994.

of railway switching across one of the main streets without success for many years. It is hoped the land development committee can solve the problem and also recommend uses of railway property where switching operations currently are centered. Low bid of Hardware Mutual for workmen's compensation insurance at a cost of $7,618.48 and public liability at a cost of $1,972.29 was approved after discrepancies were found in the lone other bid. A request by an Appleton resident to purchase a home in the city for use as a residence and beauty parlor was referred to the planning commission. Seventeen persons signed an objection to using the home as a beauty salon and aldermen were ready to reject the request. The city attorney indicated the city did not violate zoning restrictions and should first be studied by the planning commission for a contract renewal for five years at no further rate increase per month. An agreement was reached with Richard Lehrer to provide sanitary sewer service to his residence outside the city at a cost of $35 per year on a one-year basis. Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon was requested by the council to appoint a land development committee consisting of at least three city officials, two aldermen, and representatives of local industry and commerce to ascertain what can be done to improve the railway crossing situation on Main Avenue. Recommend Majority The council recommended the majority of the committee be representatives of industry and commerce. The city has been attempting to solve a problem a woman who fell on a street,rier and city attorney.

Who's hurting who?

In December a nationally circulated magazine assembled, in a single article, all the many half-truths and untruths which have been concocted over the years by the enemies of consumer-owned Rural Electric Cooperatives.

Just one of its many errors of "fact" is the charge that REA and Rural Electric Cooperatives are "eating into the entire electric power industry."

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Between 1937 and 1962, customers served by profit power companies have more than doubled in number, from 23.5 million to 48.9 million. Several million of these new customers are being served today from "spite lines" hastily built by power companies only for the purpose of preventing the creation of a Rural Electric Cooperative.

The combined revenues of these profit power companies, during the same period, increased five times, from $2.2 billion per year to $11.4 billion per year. $100 million of this combined annual revenue comes from Rural Electric Cooperatives who purchase their wholesale power from the profit power companies of this nation.

REA-financed generating cooperatives produce only 1% of the electric power used in America. Small as this amount is, in comparison to the power produced and sold by the profit power companies, it is sufficient to establish the fair cost of electric service to the American consumer, rural and urban. This yardstick of cost, rather than alleged competition, motivates every attack against electric cooperatives.

Let's Face these Facts! Who's hurting who?

1963 Was Safe Year For Kimberly Traffic

Annual Police Report Shows Fewer Accidents Last Year Than in 1962

KIMBERLY — An improved traffic safety year was reported in the village in 1963.

Compared to 1962, the number of accidents was down from 98 to 65, according to the annual report released Tuesday by Police Chief Quentin Williams. Total damage in 1962 accidents amounted to $28,012 with 32 persons injured and one killed compared to $18,642 damage in 1963 with 30 injured and none killed, according to the report. The number of complaints received increased from 501 to 524.

The department made 61 arrests, compared to 42 in 1962, not including parking violations. A total of 307 traffic warnings and 63 auto discrepancy warnings were given in 1963, compared to 132 traffic and 44 auto discrepancy warnings in 1962.

Arrest Breakdown Police reported 15 speeding arrests in 1963 compared to 11 in 1962, four illegal passing compared to five in 1962, seven arterial violations compared to four in 1962, three reckless driving both years, one driving in wrong lane of traffic each year, one drunken driving compared to five in 1962, two improper

Kimberly Fires Cost at Least $162,928

Bowling Alley Blaze Tops List In Damage Done

KIMBERLY — Fire loss in the village for 1963 amounted to $162,928, but this amount may go higher as a result of late claims, according to the annual report of Fire Chief William Courchane.

Insurance companies notify the fire department of the number and amount of insurance claims made. In 1962, 34 claims were filed with damage exceeding $4,900. The department answered 19 calls, including 12 fire runs and seven false alarms in 1962.

During 1963 the department made 18 fire runs, answered five false alarms and received notice of 46 personal and property damage claims. Largest single fire claim for the year was Jerry's Lanes where more than $144,000 in claims were filed by owners and persons having items in the building at the time of the fire.

The report showed $159,526 damage caused by furnace fires and explosions, $501 by fires near electric stoves, $574 by other electrical fires, $875 by miscellaneous fires and $1,411 by cigarette fires.

Volunteer firemen conducted quarterly inspections of business places, staged fire prevention programs for all schools and participated in 160 hours of drills.

Note Change in School Voting

Kaukauna Clerk Explains Towns Vote for Board

A reminder that electors in the towns of Harrison and Woodville may vote on and submit candidates for the two openings on the Kaukauna school board has been issued by Kaukauna City Clerk Karl E. Marzahl.

Marzahl advised chairmen of the two towns that the terms of Marshall Bayoregon and Dr. George Behnke on the Kaukauna school board expire June 30. Dr. Behnke is the only candidate who has taken out papers to date. School board members will be elected at the municipal election April 7.

Portions of the two townships, including the Harrison Grade School in Sherwood, were attached to the Kaukauna school district during reorganization in 1962. Voters in this attached area now vote for Kaukauna school board members.

Marzahl said electors in the attached area who wish to propose a candidate to run in opposition to Bayoregon and Dr. Behnke must submit nomination papers to him by 5 p.m. Jan. 28. Nomination papers require at least 10 signatures.

The two candidates securing the highest vote throughout the entire district will be elected for the three-year terms, Marzahl said.

Michael Kloepple, Town of Woodville chairman, said he had asked if the school board could be enlarged from seven to nine members, to accommodate the outlying area, when he and George Schwalbach, Harrison chairman, met with Kaukauna city and school board officials in November to vote on the school budget.

"They were not opposed to it," Kloepple said. However, he added, increasing the membership would give no assurance that the towns would have representation because the district as a whole votes for board members.

All Branches of Fishing Industry Are Represented

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Organization of the Wisconsin Fisheries Council representing every branch of the fishing industry in the state was announced Tuesday.

The group is made up of 65 firms—commercial fishermen, wholesalers and retailers, importers, sales agents and packers.

Gerald L. Bolda, of Milwaukee, named president of the group, said that the purpose of the organization was "to give a speaking voice to every side of the fisheries industry in the state." The council also will promote high standards within the industry, he said.

Bolda said that one of the first moves of the group would be to work out a processing and sanitation code in cooperation with the state Department of Agriculture. The code will be presented at a public hearing in Madison Jan. 13.

Officers elected, in addition to Bolda, were Bert Smith, Port Washington, vice president; Jack Scanlon, Port Atkinson, second vice president; Robert Roever, Milwaukee, secretary and Harold Kutchers, Milwaukee, treasurer.

Kenosha Man Takes Lie Detector Test

KENOSHA (AP)—Police said today a 28-year-old Kenosha man is undergoing lie detector tests at the State Crime Laboratory in connection with the slaying of filling station operator Thomas Heather last weekend.

Police Capt. Arthur Riley said the man was taken to the crime lab in Madison Tuesday.

Heather, 23, was shot twice in the head, apparently during a holdup before dawn last Friday at the service station where he worked. He died Sunday.

1964 Will be Johnson's Most Intense Year

Has Taken on Greater Work Load Since Heart Attack

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For President Johnson 1964, which will be the most intense year of his life, is like being condemned to a gymnasium. It is going to be an endless workout. That seems to be the way he wants it.

Johnson was 46 and President Dwight D. Eisenhower 64 when they had their heart attacks in 1955. It laid them both up for months. Thereafter Eisenhower carefully paced himself through six more years of the presidency.

Johnson did the opposite. Starting the day after he left the hospital, he invited newspaper reporters to his home. He gave the impression of a man raring to go, which is probably the exact impression he wanted to give.

Heart Attack
At any rate, he seemed to take his heart attack as an invitation to pitch harder.

After some months of rest, that year Johnson returned to his job as Democratic majority leader in the Senate and resumed his hectic pace. Then in 1960, when he had to campaign for the vice presidency, he outdid even his Senate energy.

Johnson, in his almost three years under President John F. Kennedy, continued to spread his physical effort like jam over days and nights as he whipped around making speeches and on foreign trips assigned him by Kennedy.

In all this, since Johnson was a completely secondary figure in the Kennedy administration, he was not under severe tension. Kennedy was the one who had to endure that. He was the one who had to make decisions and do the struggling.

Full Load
Now Johnson gets the full load of the physical and mental activity which go with the presidency, plus its tensions. In short, 1964 will be the greatest year of strain in his life.

Just the physical part of it is a kind of physical torture: the handshaking, the reception lines, the speechmaking, the banquets, maybe trips abroad, battles with Congress, the need to stay in camera focus.

On top of it all, will come the campaign for election.

In less than two months in office he has put a far heavier physical strain on himself than even the very active Kennedy.

Johnson seems unable to sit quietly and, so far as newsmen are concerned, to stop talking. He bounces in and out, up and down, consults with advisers, holds instant news conferences, meets with his Cabinet, hunts deer, gives personally conducted tours of his Texas ranch, keeps talking, has barbecues, strolls the streets, makes pronouncements, orders people around — he's noted for that — and keeps talking.

Routine Action
There's no reason to think this won't be his routine for the rest of the year. How does all this, set with a man who had a truly bad heart attack eight years ago? So far it seems to have worked all right.

Just a month ago one of his doctors, looking back over Johnson's eight years since the attack, says, "He has done beautifully. I don't know of anyone who gets up earlier, goes to bed later, works harder, and gets more done without any trouble than the President. He tolerates stresses that most people can't."

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — To Alaskans there's no place like home, but even they sometimes get the feeling the 49th state is pretty remote.

George F. Merz, Anchorage auto dealer, said Tuesday he placed an order with a Chicago firm for new auto contract forms.

The company's return letter said: "We wish to inform you that we only do business in the continental United States and we have no facilities for printing in a foreign language."

Couple Divorced For Fifth Time

DENVER (AP) — Oswald Lyman has reached retirement age but instead of retiring, he just makes excuses. His wife complained Tuesday.

Mrs. Lyman, 69, was granted a divorce. But only after she had promised Dist. Judge Sherman G. Finesilver that she wouldn't marry Lyman again. The couple has been married five times.

Parents' World

3-Year-Old Boy Begins to Adopt Mannerisms of Girl

Dear Dr. Jones: Our 3-year-old son has adopted "girlish" mannerisms. He pretends that his robe is a dress, plays cooking, and pretends that his stuffed animals are babies.

We have discovered that, at nursery school, he is assigned to play with others in the Doll House, where they play with dolls and are permitted to wear ladies hats and carry purses!

The director explained to me that boys this age need a chance to "get this out of their systems now?" But I'm under the impression that children his age are in the formative years, so that what they're encouraged to do will become a permanent part of them.

Should we ignore this behavior, take other measures, or what? MRS. M. S.

Your son apparently doesn't have enough friendly familiarity with his father to know how to play the "daddy," or to want to. The nursery school just supplies the stage. You and your husband are the ones supplying the motive power for your son's play.

Some extra time spent with his father in manly pursuits should help decrease your son's current preoccupation with copying the behavior he's most familiar with—yours.

Unless this becomes a constant kind of behavior that persists past the next few months, you can chalk it up as a phase of development that has done no harm and that may well have increased his later understanding of women, marriage and parenthood.

Dear Dr. Jones: My 28-month-old son was talking and expressing himself quite well until six weeks ago when one day he began to stutter. This started one week after I began toilet training him. Do you think there's any connection? If so, what can I do? MRS. L. A.

Many psychologists believe stuttering is a symptom of the anxieties that deliberate toilet training provokes. And your experience certainly supports this view. Follow the suggestions in my pamphlet, "How To Solve Toileting Problems," and let's see if the speech troubles don't clear up once the toileting pressures are removed. O. K.? Write again in a few weeks to let me know how things are going.

DEAR READERS: Please write the full name of your city and state on your mail, not just the word, "City." That way, I'll be able to reply to your letters even when they become mixed up with mail from several different places. Thank you. EVE JONES.

To receive a copy of Dr. Jones's pamphlet, "How to Solve Toileting Problems," send 20c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eve Jones, in care of this newspaper.

Mobile Mongols Live in Yurts—Portable Homes

Nomad Herders Work About Same Way As the Horsemen of 700 Years Ago

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW
TSETSERLEG, Mongolia (AP)—Dashdorj lives in a yurt. In the spring he takes the canvas and then the felt off its wooden frame, dismantles the frame and in about 30 minutes is ready to move his home. He mounts his small, rugged Mongolian horse and drives 130 cows to summer pasture. There, Dashdorj puts up the circular yurt in about 40 minutes and moves in. When autumn comes, maybe sooner if the pasture is poor, he moves again.

Not Primitive
Dashdorj's ancestors have been living this way in Mongolia for centuries. But Dashdorj is no primitive nomad. He sleeps in a metal-framed bed and listens to a battery-operated radio. His wife has a sewing machine. His 20-year-old son is studying geology in Moscow. Another son, 15, is studying to be an engineer in Ulan Bator.

Novel Mass Immunization With Oral Vaccine a Success

In Illinois, Public health authorities have taken note of a novel approach to mass immunization with Sabin oral polio vaccine. Hazel Crest General hospital the sponsored a three-dose program on a drive-in basis. Family recipients said they barely slow-school students and announcements during church services and organization meetings.

Paul H. Webster, hospital administrator, said, "The combination of advance public education and the effortless way to 'take one's medicine' brought an average of 10,000 people on each of our three Sabin Sundays. The third drive fell on the chilly Sunday after Thanksgiving.

"These figures mean we have contributed to several communities having the highest immunization rate in the Chicago area," Webster said.

Hazel Crest's population is 8,025. Towns all around Hazel Crest initiated Sabin drives after the hospital's began, which will further increase the protection rate in the suburbs south of Chicago. Other drives were set up on the usual "come-and-get-it" basis in school gyms and village halls.

"While imagination, promotion and planning contributed to the large turnout, the drive was completely successful because of the full cooperation of the citizens, the organizations and the officials of Hazel Crest and Hazel Crest, Illinois.

To Your Good Health Chemical Compounds Can Combat Cancer

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Why is the mustard treatment used for cancer?

Do not keep the public, your public, in the dark. I am sure if people were to know the truth, they would work closer with the doctors.

MRS. T. A. G. Molner
This isn't a matter of keeping the public in the dark. Rather, it involves a vast chemical problem that as yet has been only partially solved. The mustard treatment is the use of nitrogen mustard and chemically similar compounds to combat cancer. Some of these chemicals now are being employed in other ways. Perhaps the most interesting is their use to enable animals to tolerate the transplantation of organs. Exactly how the chemicals work is not well understood, but medical researchers are laboriously putting some of the pieces of the puzzle together.

There are several hundred chemicals, most but not all of them synthetic substances, which under certain circumstances can cause cancer.

Cause and Cure
Curiously, some of these also can combat cancer. But this is likewise true of X-ray, which is used to cure cancer. At the same time, under other circumstances, too much X-ray exposure, over a long period of time, can cause cancer.

Why? We don't know, because basically we don't know the exact process by which cancer starts. Viruses, heredity, chronic irritation, chemicals, all these things evidently have something to do with cancer. Or let's say they have something to do with some cancers. It remains possible that the final answer will be that several combinations of things will prove to be "the causes of cancer."

Cancer, after all, can best be described as a process in which cells begin multiplying at an excessively rapid rate, and the cells no longer maintain their normal form. Nitrogen mustard and other chemicals interfere with this rapid multiplication of cells. They are useful in such diseases as Hodgkin's Disease and Leukemia, in which the multiplication of cells does not take place at some single point, and the "cancer" thus cannot be removed surgically.

Likewise, techniques are being perfected whereby circulation to a certain affected area of the body can be shut off temporarily (as in a leg) and the powerful chemicals infused in that area alone, to attack cancer cells.

True, these chemicals have a high toxicity, and must be used only in amounts small enough so they do not cause undue poisoning of the patient. They must be used with care and caution—but they do give us an added method of battling cancer.

Bothered by Smoking
Dear Dr. Molner: A neighbor has asthma and I notice that when people smoke around her, the condition becomes worse. She seems very uncomfortable but will not complain. Is it too much to expect her husband to give up smoking and don't you think her friends should be more considerate?

MRS. H.
It's up to her to say so if the smoke bothers her. After that, her husband and friends should, of course, be considerate, meaning not smoking when with her—or cutting down to a degree that does not bother her unduly. But it seems to me that she ought to make the first move. Or the first comment.

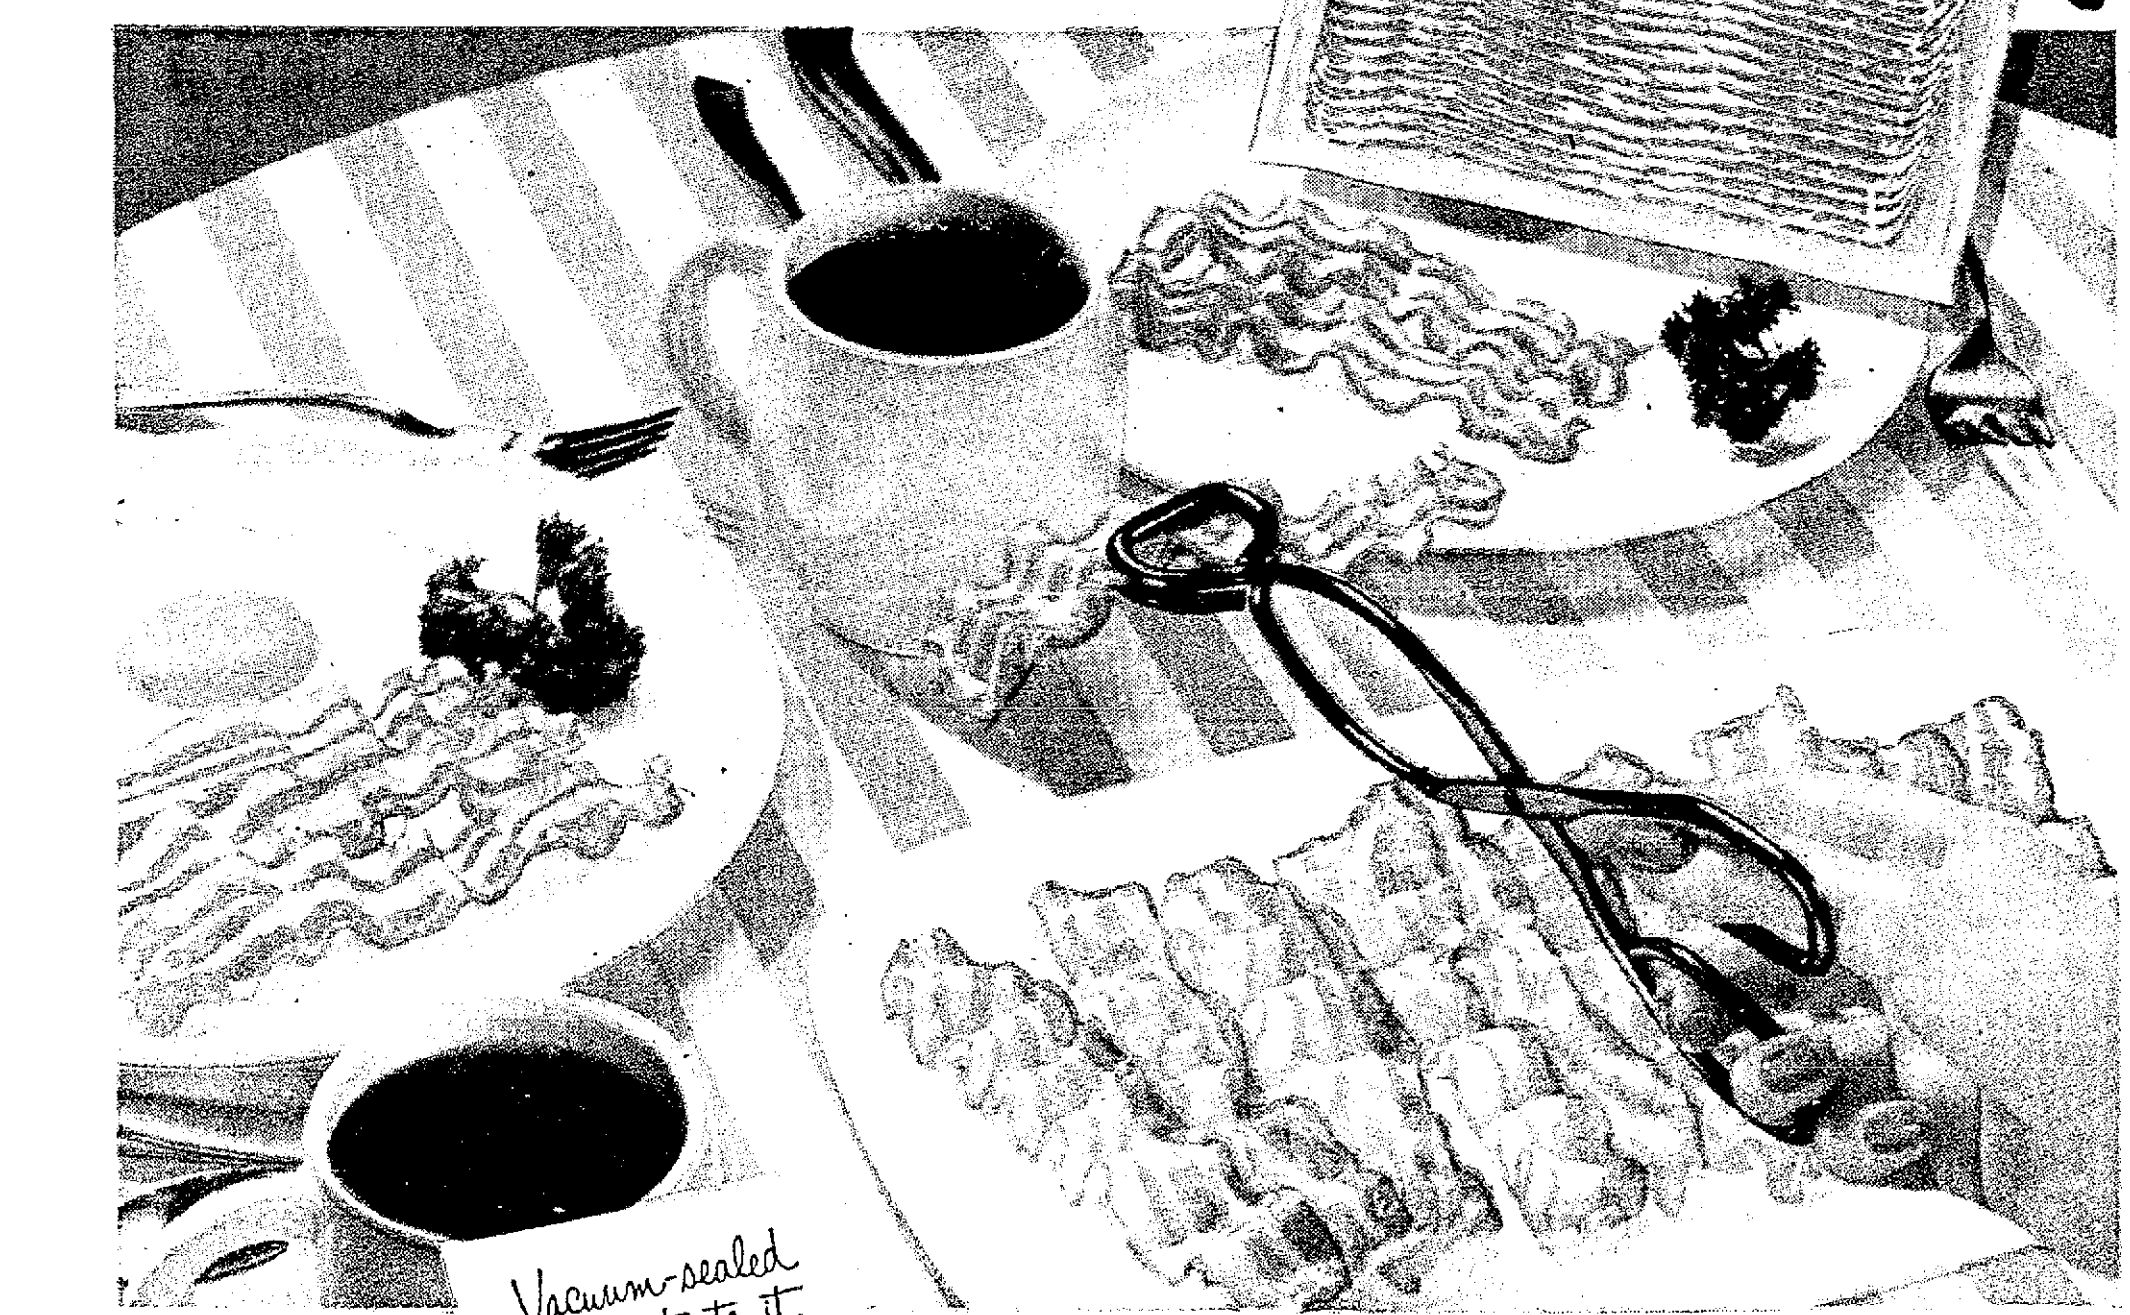

Note to E.J.R.: Some medications can pervert the sense of smell and taste, but I have never heard that pain-killing injections in the shoulder can do so.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment for this pest, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all readers' mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

New, Old Designs Combine Richly in Home Furnishings at International Chicago Market

Post-Crescent Women's Editor

CHICAGO, Ill. — Members of the press and thousands of buyers who flocked to the International Home-Furnishings Market here this week are confronted by the greatest variety in years. In total concept, the offerings of the nation's top furniture and manufacturers follow a consistent line of greater quality and elegance.

Designers have approached the traditional with lines as clean as possible and used greater restraint with the modern. In all, natural wood graining and finishes create the look of opulence.

In hundreds of displays at the American Furniture Mart and The Merchandise Mart, manufacturers tell the story of tomorrow's look in homes. They speak in subdued monochromatic color schemes, and dash it with flamboyant purples and reds. They tell it in deep pile fabrics, big, roomy lounge chairs and massive sofas, sofa beds to accommodate one, two or three persons, shapely dining room designs scaled to any room size, and finishes to delight the most discriminating.

Textures Heavy
In upholstered furniture, fabrics are exciting. Lush new textures have a tone-on-tone quality in slubs and cottons with bulk and heavy textures. All the marvels of the test tube have been brought to bear, creating synthetics that wear almost forever and retain their colors and finishes.

Expanded vinyl in plain, textured and figured malleasse belong to the same color families, relating chairs to each other without matching. New color combinations take the eye. There is brandy to bronze-brown; clay, ivory and light brown; red and orange, yellow gold and light green; vivid tones of blue and green.

Metal dinettes are designed with more specific areas of use in mind. Kitchen sets have become 'fun' items, as in Victorian ice cream sets; or more elegant, in French country-type designs in metal and wood. More brass plating, combined with white, appears, and seat covers in melon, moss and blue show lots of embossing.

Early American-Colonial designs appear to be most popular with buyers. The opening of Colonial Shops across the nation verifies the preference of young and old for the style, and it is being created in pecan, cherry and applewood, as well as maple. A long line of accessories, such as tables, wall sconces and a banjo clock have been finished to match regular lines.

Mediterranean styles remain popular, and the 'age of elegance' will be highlighted by a re-emerging Far Eastern influence and the resurgence of interest in French Empire and English styles, such as Hepplewhite, Sheraton and Regency. Here too, less embellishment, cleaner lines and lighter scaling are the key.

Made to Use
Weaving its way throughout the showrooms here is a studied functionalism—casters to put the household on wheels; more partitions and compartments in case goods; buffets that store dining table leaves, cleverly concealed pull-out tables, trundle beds that can be used as storage chests.

The trend to entertain at home is reflected in hostess carts, mobile serving bars, party tables and patio furnishings.

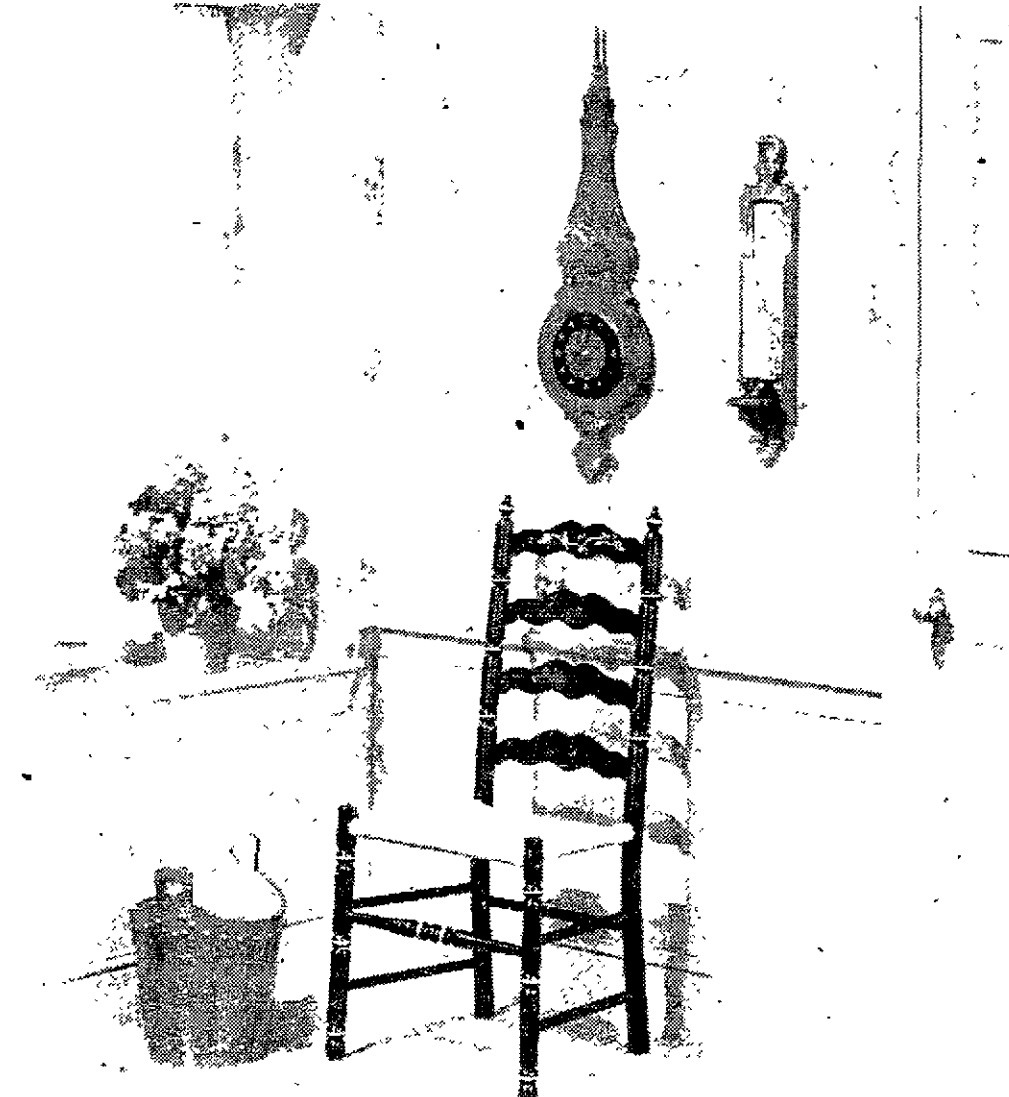

Specific room furnishings will be noted in the days to come. Post-Crescent reports what homemakers may expect to find in local shops during 1964.

A favorite tall chest of a few decades ago gets a fresh start in this chifonier updated by John Van Koert. It is from a 'designer' collection that relates without matching. The cameo mirror stand is a favorite 'new piece' at the International Home Furnishings Market this week in Chicago. At right is another innovation introduced at the show of home furnishings. The pedestal upholstered arm chair is a Danish import with foam-rubber cushions and poly-dacron filled back. The suspension design has a T-shape base.

The Pedestal-Base dining table is back, polished to perfection. The set above in English Regency styling was launched at the International Home-Furnishings Market. Cathedral walnut veneers are used, with the finish in walnut shell, a wild honey color. The separate buffet and deck provide the breakfront look and very generous storage space. The octagonal table—44-inches in diameter—extends by means of two 15 inch apron leaves. At right is shown the trend to complete style lines with matching accessories. The mirrored scone, banjo clock and waste basket are all finished in warm Andover maple.

Ann's Writing for Those Who Live in Real World

BY ANN LANDERS

I said "Your reply, 'Pure sex—' it has nothing to do with love answer to the woman whose husband confessed he had wanted from the straight and narrow — only once — made me furious. Isn't there enough adultery going on without Ann Landers giving it her blessings? All the men need is somebody like you on their side. 'Why do they do it?' she

Miss Sandra Bartel

Parents Tell Betrothal of Daughter

The engagement of Miss Sandra Jean Bartel to Alfred Lewis Gosha Jr., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert R. Bartel, 1113 N. Gillett St. Mr. Gosha is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Gosha Sr., 1702 N. Drew St.

Miss Bartel is a senior at Appleton High School. Her fiancé is employed by John Nofke, builder, Appleton.

No wedding date has been set.

mind All I want is an honest to goodness live date before the semester ends.

I'm no beauty but I'm no beast either. My grades are good and I have a pleasant personality. We live in a nice house, my dad is an attorney and we have no nutty relatives locked up in the attic. So why can't I get even one fellow to ask me out?

When the football players need help with Spanish they call on me. When the basketball players need someone to write a book review I get the nod. But dates — nothing. The fellows all tell me I'm a great gal and a good kid. But when it comes to asking me out it's like I never existed. Why? — Zipher.

Dear Zipher: I may sound like a broken record — but here we go again.

Be friendly, but don't try to be one of the boys. If a fellow wants to be with the boys he'll go where the boys are.

Ask him questions about himself. Listen to his replies and then ask more questions.

Be cheerful and fun to be with. All people enjoy pleasant company, and boys are people.

If you go to work on these three points I guarantee that business will improve.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

TEACHER NEEDS LESSON

Dear Louise: My husband who is on the faculty of the high school claims that after the boys and girls have been graduated, they are entitled to call both of us by our first names. Is this today's procedure despite the trend of informality?

My husband also says that if he writes a letter to a former student, now in college, he should sign just John without his last name. I can't believe that this is correct either. I would appreciate your comments. Maybe I'm stuffy or old fashioned.

Miss Tellock Tell Troth of Miss Tellock, James Ferge

FREMONT—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koenamann have announced the engagement of her daughter, Diana Tellock to James Ferge. Diana is the daughter of Mrs. Koenamann and the late G. C. Tellock. Mr. Ferge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ferge, New London.

The bride-elect is employed at Standard Kollsman Corp. Oshkosh. Her fiancé is with the Neenah Foundry Co., Neenah.

An August wedding is planned.

Louise Davis Answers:

You are correct both times. First name calling comes naturally if and when the relationship gets on the same friendship "plateau" regardless of discrepancies in age. Just because a former high school student is now in college doesn't make him (or her) that much of a mature adult unless your husband is juvenile for his age (which I doubt). I am sure that the student would be embarrassed if he were asked to call your husband John. His instinct and breeding wouldn't let him the dignity and respect they do to it. I hope you can persuade your husband to sign his name, possibility in the far future that John Doakes to his letters. You both of you and the present college student may be close enough as friends to be on a mother, Mrs. Viola Wehling, 812 W. Marquette St. Mr. Seifert is the Western Electric Co.

TAFFY'S TIPS

By Dolly Martin

DON'T BE LICKED BY A COW. LICK

HAVE A COWLICK? Here's what to do. Use it as a starting point for a completely new and different hairdo. Don't fight it or fret over it, but start right at the cowllick and go in any direction. You can still wear your hair any length, just be sure the crown of the hair goes in the way the cowllick is determined to fall. With a back cowllick, cut the hair short and swirl the clipped hair style around it. No part is necessary. Hide a front cowllick with a part across the crown, with deep band worn forward. A low part, with hair swept forward will also hide a side cowllick.

Defender Finds Easy Play Hard

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A certain type of play is very easy for declarer but very difficult for a defender. The idea is to win the first trick of a suit in the correct hand.

West opens the queen of spades and continues the suit, forcing South to ruff. Declarer leads a trump to dummy's nine and returns a low club.

South would play the queen, and West would win with the ace of clubs. West cannot afford to lead diamonds, since that would give declarer a free finesse. Hence West leads another spade.

South ruffs and leads another trump to dummy.

He returns the other low club and East takes the king. It is now too late for East to lead a diamond; South steps up with the ace of diamonds and cashes the jack of clubs to discard dummy's other diamond.

Worthless King

East can defeat the contract by stepping up with the king of clubs when the first club is led from the dummy. East must see that his king is worthless unless his partner has considerable club strength.

As it turns out, the king of clubs wins the trick. East can shift immediately to a diamond before South has set up a club trick. Now South must lose a diamond trick, and this costs him the game and rubber.

Answer: Pass. You have 11 points in high cards and 2 points for the doubletons, but this 13-point hand is not worth an opening bid. Your diamond strength is of doubtful value.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms, ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it.

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's most modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Skaters Prove As Enthusiastic As Ancestors

The gleam of metal shines at area skating rinks at this time of year. Avid Fox Cities ice skaters found the ice and weather perfect for their sport last weekend. They proved that present generations are just as enthusiastic about the sport as their ancestors were.

The earliest known skaters were those of the Viking age. They used a bone runner made of cow ribs or bones of horses or reindeer. Bone skates have been found in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, England, Switzerland, Germany and the Netherlands.

The word "skates" is derived from the modern Dutch word "schaats" which is as old as 1573.

It Gets a Little cold after a few hours 'on the ice.' Taking time out in the warming house, above, at Jones Park are Miss Kristy Merholtz, Charles Meyers and Miss Kay Van Stralen. The weather and ice were perfect last weekend for Fox Cities skaters who love to participate in the ancient sport. Taking their turn around the ice, right, are Wayne Eberhard and Miss Jackie Ratliff. # Rising Economy Does Not Help Joblessness

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Fast as our economy is running today, all it's doing is standing still.

In the year just ended, we added more than $30 billion to our total output of goods and services, boosted it to a now peak of $585 billion. Right now our annual rate of output is crossing the historic landmark of $600 billion.

But we didn't make a dent in our unemployment rate. When 1963 began, our jobless rate was still around 5½ per cent.

For a full 10 years, our economy has not failed to show an annual rise, and just since early 1961, when the late President Kennedy took office, we have grown by an unprecedented $100 billion.

But this is the 73rd month in a row in which unemployment has stuck at 5 per cent or more. Throughout the entire current expansion—now almost three years old—all we have managed to achieve is a cut in the jobless rate from 7 per cent to 5½ per cent. We are nowhere near the "tolerable" unemployment rate of 4 per cent.

Business Records

We have smashed business records left and right during this upturn. After-tax corporate profits are 40 per cent above the recession low. Business spending on plants and equipment is 20 per cent higher than in early 1961. Personal incomes have soared to new peaks, so have auto sales, so have retail sales as a whole, and so has total employment. There are 2.5 million more of us employed now than three years ago.

But we have done no more than hold our own with our growing labor force and the increasing productive efficiency of our workers (productivity). There are over 4 million Americans able and willing to work who can't find jobs today. There are over 4 million Americans able and willing to work who couldn't find jobs a year ago today.

Our factory production climbed an impressive 6 per cent in 1963 alone and, of course, hit a peak. But employment in factories rose only a fraction of 1 per cent, and in agriculture it fell almost 2½ per cent. The only big increases in employment in 1963 were in the services, trade and local governments.

Wherever you turn, you will find the statistical evidence of this most critical economic-social problem facing the United States at this start of 1964—stubbornly high unemployment despite a sustained period of solid prosperity.

We're now into the peak business forecasting season and the unanimity of optimistic predictions is remarkable for this late stage in a business expansion.

When President Johnson submits his economic report to the nation later this month, his forecasts will climax the optimism. Yet the fact that economists overwhelmingly expect our economy to set new records in 1964 isn't nearly as comforting as it may seem.

In a dynamic, growing economy new records simply mean that we are not stumbling into another slump.

With young workers pouring into our labor force at the fastest pace ever and automation wiping out jobs of older workers at the fastest pace ever, we'll be in major trouble if we don't smash through to new peaks this year and next year and on and on.

Thus, the questions which go to the heart of the matter are: How quickly will we set new peaks this year, and by what extent will they top previous peaks?

The answers which go to the heart of the matter are: We must grow at a faster rate than in 1963—expand by considerably more than $30 billion—or again we'll only hold our own with our rising labor force and productivity.

We must add enough extra billions to consumer and business spending to help create an additional 2.5 million jobs each year.

We must tackle far more seriously the basic problems of training and retraining our workers to fill the jobs that will open.

With the tax cuts, we may by 1965 stop standing still and start running fast enough to cut our jobless rate below 5 per cent. (Copyright, 1964)

Planner Gives Proposals for Appleton Street

First Major Step
In Washington,
Franklin Work

First major recommendations concerning design and traffic patterns for the Washington-Franklin Street extension project were made Tuesday night.

Meeting in city hall, the city council's public safety committee concurred with the report of City Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen.

Wisconsin Public Service Commission recently gave the city authority to establish grade crossings to link Washington with Franklin Street, and extend it to North Richmond Street.

It has been estimated the project will cost $300,000, including land acquisition.

Recommendations
Rasmussen recommended: —Sherman Place not be connected to Franklin Street because it is a narrow street, entirely local, and should be kept that way.

—Franklin Street be kept a two-way street between Richmond and Division Streets, with two traffic lanes in each direction.

—Washington Street remain a one-way westbound street with three traffic lanes.

—Walnut Street be made one-way southbound between College Avenue and Lawrence Street.

—The width of traffic lanes be not less than 12 feet, and the width of parallel parking lanes no less than 10 feet.

—Construction of the street extension is to accommodate the northerly and northwesterly movement of traffic in the origin-and-destination survey made by the state highway commission in 1954." Rasmussen said.

He said traffic passing the Washington-Franklin intersection is in excess of 10,000 vehicles per day.

"It should be noted the recommendations are made in the spirit of maintaining a degree of flexibility within the proposed street extensions to permit adjustments to the changing traffic patterns which may occur and which cannot be anticipated," Rasmussen said.

The PSC order giving the city the go-ahead for the project said the work must be completed within one year.

Chilton Council Rejects Police Appointment

5-3 Vote Defeats
Move to Name
Calumet Sheriff

CHILTON — A divided City Council Tuesday night defeated Mayor Elmer Daun's appointment of Calumet County Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky to the post of Chilton chief of police. The secret ballot vote was 5-3.

When Daun announced his choice, he stated he had carefully screened all 22 applicants and had finally decided on Kosmosky to fill the police department vacancy which will develop when Police Chief Harry Thompson retires Jan. 31.

Several aldermen questioned why they had not been given an opportunity to review the applications. Daun said they were on file at the city clerk's office for any councilman to see.

Long Silence
Ald. Arno Weller moved for council ratification of the appointment. A 10-minute silence followed Weller's motion before it gained a second from Ald. Emil Jodar. Jodar stipulated the secret ballot.

In defending his appointment, Mayor Daun said he had spent a lot of time reviewing the applications and he felt he had done the best he could in appointing Kosmosky. He then asked if any councilman had any suggestions for the job.

He also asked if anyone on the council could question Kosmosky's experience, honesty and integrity. His challenge went unanswered.

Daun appointed Ald. Raymond Jensen, George Winkler and Emil Schaff to assist him in reviewing the applications before making another appointment.

No date was set when Harry Thompson's successor would be named. Thompson has reached retirement age.

Appleton Tavernkeepers Attack License Increase

Spokesmen Claim Fee Hike Would Put Many Places Out of Business

A group of Appleton tavern and tavernkeepers should take keepers claimed Tuesday night, "a realistic view" of proposed license fee increases.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings (7th) said she was "somewhat amazed" that any kind of a license hike would put so many taverns out of business as claimed. She contended fees in Appleton are low and an upward adjustment is in order.

Repeatedly, Mrs. Stillings said, "Gentlemen, we have no intention of putting anyone out of business but we would like some realistic suggestions from you as to how much of an increase would be practical."

One tavernkeeper said "as a compromise" he would be willing to pay an additional $25 a year more for his liquor license. Others said "no" to any kind of an increase.

The committee said it would study the fee schedule and planned to recommend increases which would be reasonable.

Appleton Bank to Use New Building
The First National Bank, Appleton, will conduct business in the rear of its new building starting Monday.

Entrance to the temporary quarters will be on Appleton Street.

Demolition of the present bank building, in use since 1914, will be under way within 10 days, Harold Adams, president, said.

Walkways on N. Appleton Street and W. College Avenue will be constructed around the project for pedestrian traffic.

Committee Reply
The committee said it had no intention of driving any firm out of business, but reminded that municipal government and inspection costs have increased.

Appleton Man Fined $30 for Bad Conduct
David Havel, 18, 1708 E. Randall Ave., pleaded guilty and was fined $30 in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Tuesday for disorderly conduct in a Town of Grand Chute tavern on New Year's Eve.

Outagamie County sheriff authorities arrested Havel after it was reported Havel was creating a disturbance at the Club 96 on Wisconsin Road.

Fire-Fighters Extinguish Meal

You generally can count on a crew of Appleton firemen showing up for dinner — if the dinner is on fire.

A crew of Appleton firemen were most welcome guests Tuesday at a dinner being prepared at the Raymond Gauger home, 1343 W. Taylor St.

Several ducks and a goose being prepared in the broiler of the Gauger kitchen suddenly burst into flame and in a short time the house was filled with smoke.

Firemen were called and put out the flaming fowl with a small chemical extinguisher, then used an ejector to clear the smoke from the house.

Neenah Council To Seek Bids on New Fire Station

NEENAH — The public protection committee of the Neenah Common Council will recommend that bids be advertised for work on the proposed Neenah fire station, chairman Peter Fara said Wednesday.

He added that the recommendation will also include an appendage that the fire station work be contained within the bond proposal as approved by the council at their Jan. 2 meeting.

In addition the committee approved a recommendation to the council that bids be advertised for a police squad car, which has been covered in their 1964 budget.

Both recommendations will be made at the next regular council meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 15.

Paul Hameister, 30, Rural Appleton, Named Outstanding Area Farmer

Robert Gagnow, Seymour, Herbert Brei,
Greenville Named Runners-Up in JC Test

Paul Hameister, 30, route 1, Appleton, was named Outagamie County's outstanding young farmer of the year at a banquet of Agriculture, 1 a u d e d at the Appleton Elks Club Tuesday night.

Hameister, operator of a 70-acre farm just west of the city, was selected from a field of more than 50 candidates in the annual contest sponsored jointly by the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Appleton Appliance Co.

Started 9 Years Ago
This year's winner started farming nine years ago with 22 head of cattle averaging a modest 218 pounds of butterfat. He has built his herd to an impressive 33 head on the comparatively small farm. The milk cows have more than doubled their butterfat average.

First runnerup for the third straight year was Robert Gagnow, Seymour. The 34-year-old farmer just missed top honors in 1963 and in 1962. He operates a 120-acre farm with 32 milk cows and 37 heifers.

Herbert Brei, 33, Greenville, was second runnerup. He has been operating a 104-acre farm for the past 3½ years. His farm was hit by a barn fire Dec. 1.

More Efficient
Benson told the capacity audience of Jaycees and farmer guests the American farmer is the most efficient in the world. The U.S. represents only 6 per cent of the world's population, and produces 16 per cent of the world's food. This is being accomplished with only 8 per cent of the country's population on farms.

In contrast, Red China has 80 per cent of its population working in agriculture and still has famine, Benson said.

The surplus this U.S. efficiency produces are not "a curse, as many claim, but are instead a blessing," Benson said. A surplus is better than a shortage, he said, and added that a serious drought or insect outbreak could quickly wipe out excess farm produce.

Best Dollars
"Maintaining the surplus may be the best dollars the government can spend," Benson said.

Jaycee Gerald Schoepke was in charge of the contest this year and served as master of ceremonies.

Water Study Firm Gets Appleton OK

Works Board Selects Chicago
Consultants for Source Review

Consoer-Townsend & Associates of Chicago was picked by the board of public works Tuesday to make a water study for the City of Appleton.

The board interviewed representatives of four consulting firms before making the selection.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell said the next step will be for the city to determine the range of the study and then negotiate a contract with the Chicago firm.

No estimate was given as to how much the study would cost. Both Lake Michigan and Lake Winnebago will be considered as future water sources.

Previous Report
Previously, the board indicated it was not satisfied with a report and recommendations prepared for the Appleton Water Department by Alvord, Burdick & Howsen, also of Chicago, which also handled Green Bay Lake Michigan - tapping project in the 1950's.

Action of the board indicates Alvord, Burdick & Howsen has been dropped as the water department's consultant, a position it held more than 25 years.

Other Communities
Mitchell and other board members said the study should not be confined to a future supply for just Appleton, and might include other Fox Cities communities which have turned down requests to join a cooperative Lake Michigan pipeline project.

"The City of Appleton will pay for the entire study and we will have all the facts to present these communities," Mitchell said.

Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission will also be requested to play a role in the water expansion project at a later date.

Future Meeting
Criteria for the study will be arrived at during a future meeting of the board and the water commission.

Neenah Electrical Board Meets Today
NEENAH — The Neenah electrical board will meet tonight at 4:15 p.m. in the city hall.

The last board meeting was Oct. 22, 1963.

Meetings are held periodically to review applications for journeyman or master electrician ratings.

At the board session examinations for the ratings are corrected and the applicants are passed or failed, according to their tests.

Funeral Planned for Retired Chilton Painter, Walter Schwanke, 68
CHILTON — Funeral services were being planned today for a retired Chilton painter who was found dead in his apartment Monday after apparently choking to death on food lodged in his throat.

The victim was identified as Walter Schwanke, 68.

Calumet County Coroner Leroy Hughes set Friday evening as the probable time of death.

The body was discovered by Schwanke's landlord, Frank Fox, and J. E. Sohrwide, a Chilton insurance salesman, after the two became concerned over Schwanke's two-day absence.

A sister survives.

Harrington Says Some Type of Four-Year Plan Will be Started In Fox River Area Before Long

BY JACQUELINE FIX
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Junior-senior college programs in both the Fox Valley and southeastern Wisconsin are "inevitable," University of Wisconsin President Fred Harrington said here Tuesday.

Speaking after an informal discussion meeting with about 70 selected alumni at the UW Fox Valley Center, Harrington said the Board of Regents will take up the matter of four-year centers at a meeting Friday and will continue to discuss it until summer, when a recommendation for the next biennium is expected.

Dr. Harrington did not say which area would be given the nod for the first four-year program.

"I am sure there will be a junior-senior program — whether in a four-year center or some other way — in both southeastern Wisconsin and the Fox Valley area before long," he said. If the program is not recommended for the Fox Valley this year, it will be within the next few years, he said. "It is inevitable."

Valley Speculation
There has been speculation about a four-year program at either the Fox Valley Center or

Professor To Address Convocation

Dr. Andrew C. Berry, who holds the Colman chair of mathematics at Lawrence College, will deliver an address on "Mathematics vs. Reality" at 10:40 a.m. Thursday in Memorial Chapel, in the first convocation of the new year.

Dr. Berry holds degrees from Harvard University, and has done post-graduate study at Brown and Princeton. He came to Lawrence in 1941 from the Columbia University faculty. He is listed in Who's Who in America, American Men of Science, and is a member of the American Mathematical Society.

The lecture is open to the public. Seats in the fore part of the balcony are not assigned to students, officials said.

Ford Foundation Meets With Valley UW Urban Team

Four staff members of the Ford Foundation met today with the University of Wisconsin Ford urban team at the UW Fox Valley Center.

The Ford Foundation representatives are studying the UW urban program, started in 1960, with a $1 million Ford Foundation grant. The university has applied for an additional grant for the program.

The UW urban program includes three phases: research in a growing metropolitan area by the Fox Valley urban team, research in metropolitan Milwaukee, and research in Columbia County, a rural area near the urban area of Madison.

The Ford Foundation representative also visited with university personnel in Milwaukee and Madison.

Neenah Alderman Files in 9th Ward

NEENAH — Incumbent 10th Ward Ald. Harold Young today took out nomination papers in his first step toward running for re-election.

He is employed as an art adviser at the Marathon Division of American Can Co. He has been a Neenah alderman for eight years, starting in April of 1956.

the Green Bay Center, or a junior-senior program to serve both Fox Valley extensions.

Commenting on the proposal last week by the Educational Policies Commission, a national organization, that two years of free public education should be provided beyond the high school, President Harrington said, "I would not contemplate this would happen in this state."

"Our financial problems are sufficiently great now," he added dryly.

"We do feel college education does benefit the individual so much that he should pay part of the cost," he said. Theoretically the idea of continued free public education is quite attractive, but in the practical situation it is difficult, he said. However, most of the cost for the in-state student should be paid by the state, which will get it back in taxes in the future he added.

Several Meetings
Harrington's meeting with alumni was one of several throughout the state. Alumni from throughout the Fox Valley and surrounding area attended a dinner and the discussion session following. Harrington spoke briefly on University goals and problems and answered questions from the alumni.

He told them the university expects to double its present enrollment of 37,000 by the mid-1970s and growth in the centers will be more rapid than at the Madison and Milwaukee campuses.

Fox Valley Center will double its present enrollment of 500 to 1,000 more rapidly than the Madison or Milwaukee enrollment will be doubled, Harrington said. Noting the large addition opened at the center last fall, he said there is "no doubt it will be enlarged again later."

Growing Need
The University of Wisconsin does not accept the approach of some universities that, with the great increase in college age young people, only the best should be educated, the UW president said. "We feel this country rests upon the education of a great many people," and the university must grow to meet that need, he said.

The plan is to have more campuses, he said. Madison will remain the central campus and will have most graduate courses and most highly technical courses such as engineering, but total enrollment will be spread out more, he said. At present there are 24,000 students in Madison, 10,000 in Milwaukee and 3,000 in centers.

"The tough time is our time," Harrington said. "During the next dozen years we will double

Ottumwa Voters Kill Antenna System Proposal

Electors of the city of Ottumwa, Iowa, voted 7,668 to 1,255 against granting a city franchise to Iowa Cable Television Co. to operate a community antenna system in a special referendum Tuesday.

Post Publishing Co. of Appleton, which has purchased Television Station KTVO in Ottumwa, opposed granting of the franchise. In a campaign conducted over the last month Post argued that a CATV system would reduce the income potential of the local TV station. Post also told residents of the city that if they wanted CATV service, Post would provide it.

Post Publishing is awaiting approval of the Federal Communications Commission for the purchase of KTVO and will take over its operation as soon as such approval is received.

NEW YORK (AP)—President John F. Kennedy, a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, wrote an introduction to a book only months before he died describing the life of the creative artist as a "stern and lonely" one.

"Too often in the past, we have thought of the artist as an idler and dilettante and the lover of arts as somehow sissy or effete," the late president wrote last summer in "Creative America," to be published next month for the proposed national cultural center in Washington. The book has been dedicated to his memory.

"We have done both an injustice," Kennedy wrote. "The life of the artist is, in relation to his work, stern and lonely. He has labored hard, often amid deprivation, to perfect his skill."

Kennedy did much of the work on "Profiles in Courage" in Asia which its prestige and while recuperating from major surgery to correct a back ail-

France Pledges Aid to Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—France has pledged military and economic aid to its former territory of Cambodia, filling some of the gap left by Cambodia's rejection of U.S. aid.

French Defense Minister Pierre Messmer, speaking at a dinner in his honor Sunday night, said the aid would include tanks, trucks and planes for the Cambodian armed forces and professors for schools.

Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, expressed gratitude that France has decided "to fulfill the role work on 'Profiles in Courage' in Asia which its prestige and while recuperating from major surgery to correct a back ail-

Poetic Movie Called Enduring Masterwork

'America, America' Tribute to Author Elia Kazan's Adopted Land, Family

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In "America, America" Elia Kazan has composed an epic poem in tribute to his family and his adopted land.

The film is poetic, yet novelistic in style; indeed, the narrative was first published by Kazan in novel form. The story obviously flowed from his heart. The result is a masterwork that will long endure.

The triumph is Kazan's all the way. He is the writer, director and producer. He obviously has chosen the settings and the characters with a loving eye. For his main figure he picked a completely unknown and inexperienced actor, molding him to fit perfectly the concept Kazan had in mind.

Theme Basic
The theme of "America, America" is so basic and dramatic in the history of this land that it is amazing it has never been adequately treated on the screen before.

Stavros Topouzoglou — actually Kazan's uncle — is a Greek boy living in Turk-held country at the end of the last century. He sees the Turks terrorize the Armenians in retaliation for Constantinople bombings. He sees his large family living in fear that the Greeks will be next in line.

Stavros' father believes the boy is the family's hope for liberation and sends him off to Constantinople with their small wealth. The plan was for Stavros to invest the money in a business. But the boy has another dream: America.

Completely Real
The journey is a disaster from the start. Stavros is beaten, robbed and degraded. He tries to work for his passage to America, only to have his savings robbed by a prostitute. He seeks to marry money but loses his nerve and finds an even more debasing method to earn a ticket for New York. Even then he is thwarted within sight of his goal.

"America, America" is no sugary love letter to the United States. Kazan makes no concessions for sentiment or the trappings of a commercial movie and hence the film may fall short of being a popular attraction.

But it is Kazan's lack of compromise that gives "America, America" its cumulative power. You are caught up in the Odyssey of this modern Greek because it is completely real. The photography by Haskell Wexler, sometimes blurred like life itself, reflects the mood and texture of the land and its people.

Presidency, Papal Trip Top TV Card

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — Two documentaries spice the evening. CBS Reports concerns itself with "The Crisis in Presidential Succession" and has captured the thoughts of former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman on the subject. But the person whose ideas may provoke the most comment is former Vice President Nixon.

8-9 (Channel 4-5) The Pope's Pilgrimage covers much the same ground as the spate of new shows of recent days which focused on the historic trip of Pope Paul VI to the Holy Land. But this one is in color; none of the film has been shown before.

8-9 (Channel 11) — Ben Casey spends an hour with a stubborn, though pleasant, old man. Charlie Ruggles is hospitalized with a seizure. And he refuses to tell Casey and the others in the hospital crowd what his name is.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show, beginning to exhibit signs of age, relies more and more on the charm of its participants to overcome less and less inventive scripts. In this one, Dick is interviewed about his boss (Carl Reiner) for a newsmagazine cover story.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Wild slapstick rules the highlight skit on The Danny Kaye Show. He plays a waiter on a liner, serving the table of Capt. Terry-Thomas. Another sketch has them both as prisoners of war, inventing novel methods of escape.

9-10 (4-5) — The Eleventh Hour has a touching tale of what a divorce means to the father-son relationship. Red Buttons is the father, allowed to visit his son only on Sundays. Jaye P. Morgan is the mother.

Court Upholds Levies to Improve Water Facilities
MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Supreme Court held valid Tuesday assessments levied by the Crestview Sanitary District to improve water facilities in the Racine County town of Caldonia.

The district levied assessments of $38,985 to cover the cost of water system improvements and the Duncan and Crestview Development Corps. and Abner G. Rosenfeld challenged the district's action.

A Racine County Circuit Court, held valid assessments on all lots having access to water lines and invalid for lots not serviced.

The Supreme Court said all the assessments are valid whether the lots have access to water lines or not.

The charges were challenged on grounds that lots connected to the present water system were assessed only $10 while unimproved lots were assessed at $120 each and unplatted territory assessed in multiples of $120.

Stock Market Sales Irregular

Steels Relinquish Lead and Tobaccos Regain Their Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels relinquished early leadership and tobaccos recovered from recent losses as the stock market moved irregularly higher in active trading early this afternoon.

With five straight advances behind it, the market seemed headed for still another new peak in the averages.

Most gains and losses were small, however, and the market leadership was going through a process of rotation.

A continued advance by the steels broke up into irregularity while motors, which remained dead center in early early trading, began to produce some gains.

A dividend increase by Ford seemed to spur the automotive section, although it still showed some losses.

Selective strength among airlines, building materials, office equipments and electronics helped keep the market on the upside.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 238.5 with industrials up .6, rails off .2 and utilities up .3.

The market was continuing a steady advance with shifting currents of re-investment and profit taking. Wall Streeters saw renewed signs of public confidence in figures showing that odd lotters — those who deal in lots of less than 100 shares — have been buying more than selling the past four sessions. This reversed the 1963 pattern.

Price moved irregularly higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Honeyymoon Over For Wisconsin And Weatherman

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter prepared an assault on Wisconsin today, in the form of snow, sleet and rain. And coming in behind it, the weatherman says, is a mass of cold air. Some light snow was falling at mid-morning at Eau Claire and in the southwestern corner of Wisconsin. The lower temperatures are expected by Thursday.

Meanwhile, temperatures continued at above normal levels Tuesday and early today. The high Tuesday was 38 at Beloit and the coldest spot was Superior with 28.

Early today, minimums ranged from 15 at Green Bay to 32 at Racine. Park Falls reported 20, Wausau and Eau Claire 21, Superior 23, Milwaukee 27, Lone Rock 28 and Madison, Beloit and La Crosse 30.

Some light snow flurries fell in the northeastern part of Wisconsin Tuesday.

For example, the object in one numbered picture is a pair of glasses. Look at the unnumbered pictures and you will find one that is of a pair of glasses of another kind. Number the two drawings alike.

When you have finished teaming up all the objects, clip out the picture, paste it on a paper or a postal card and print your name, age and address beneath it. Decorate your entry in any neat, original way, using your paints, crayons or cutouts. Address your entry to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow. The five nearest, most original correct entries will win the local preliminary prizes. These entries will compete automatically with local winners from all other cities where this column is published to find the five national prize winners.

Names of the winners will be published here and their prizes will be sent to them by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

War Within the Pentagon

President Johnson may ultimately have to settle a bitter battle being secretly waged by the Army and the Air Force in the Pentagon. The issue is simple, but crucial to the nation's defenses. The Army wants to build a huge new air force of its own, and the Air Force is trying to stop it.

Historically you will remember that the Air Force through World War II was a part of the Army. Then the Unification Act of 1947 established an independent Air Force and gave it command of practically all land-based planes. The Army was left with only a few small planes for artillery spotting and liaison.

Subsequently the Air Force decided to put the bulk of its multi-billion dollar appropriations into the heavy bombers of the Strategic Air Command, leaving only scraps for the Tactical Air Command upon which the Army had to depend for air support.

As a result the Army started to acquire more aircraft of its own. There are now about 22,000 men and 6,000 aircraft in Army Aviation. The war in Viet Nam has given the Army its first real opportunity to try out new methods of air warfare, helicopters to transport soldiers rapidly from one area to another and armed helicopters to act as escorts. A new Army transport plane was developed, the Caribou, and a new fighter, the Mohawk, which can fly both slow and fast and packs a terrific wallop with rockets, napalm bombs and anti-tank guided missiles. The Mohawks have been used to support ground troops in Viet Nam, and the Army claims with great success.

Experience in Viet Nam has convinced the Army it will need many more aircraft in the future. And this point of view is supported by a new concept of the Army of the future drafted by a special board appointed by Defense Secretary McNamara and headed by Lt. Gen. Howze. McNamara told the board to look for "bold new concepts," and it so responded. It recommended a gigantic increase in the Army's air arm, to 12,000 planes and 30,000 pilots by 1970, at an estimated cost of $5 billions. It urged the formation of five air assault divisions which would move by air and have airborne firepower. Secretary McNamara promptly ordered that an air-assault division be organized on a test basis and given a field test. One is now in training at Fort Benning, Ga.

The Air Force is furious about the Howze board recommendations and is fighting back. Senator Goldwater, who is a major general in the Air Force Reserve, declares the program "would result in waste and confusion of fantastic proportions."

The Air Force has even charged that the Army wants to take over its Tactical Air Command. And from a neutral standpoint, a good case can be made out that it should. The Tactical Command's main function is to support the Army. There is a considerable difference in its duties and those of the Strategic Air Command.

The cost factor obviously should be a major factor in the final decision. The problem at the moment seems to be one of separating traditional service jealousies from the facts of the matter. Secretary McNamara has demonstrated a considerable talent for settling these disputes without regard to the emotional aspects involved. But this one may be even too big for him.

A Curious Choice of Words

Robert Oberbeck of Madison is the executive manager of an association of local government employe labor organizations and in that capacity functions as the chief publicist for the public employe union interest in Wisconsin. In a recent commentary in a paper which he edits for those unions he used some strange and disturbingly suggestive language about the aspirations of the movement which he represents as a paid officer.

He reported on some of the difficulties encountered in introducing the concept of public employe collective bargaining in some of the courthouses and city halls of Wisconsin and referred to that goal as "the sharing of sovereignty of the employer with the public employe union."

This might have been careless writing. But it might also mean what it says. In the latter event, it is time for the real "sovereign" in this situation to pay some heed. "Sovereignty" in the accepted definition means supreme authority.

There is no such thing as supreme authority in the county or city governments or the other local government subdivisions of Wisconsin. These instruments are creatures of the state. There is no "sovereignty" in this sense in the state government either.

Sovereignty reposes in the people of Wisconsin, and Mr. Oberbeck if he wishes to avoid unpleasant connotations in his public relations work would be wise to remember it.

This union has shown a certain impatience, in spite of the judgment of objective persons outside the line of fire that it has made significant and perhaps excessive political gains in recent legislative sessions. It has won the right to organize public employes. It has the right to represent them in bargaining negotiations with local government officials as employers. State law has helpfully provided a fact-finding procedure for use in negotiation deadlocks, in the democratic conviction that public opinion, all else failing, will contribute to just solutions of wage and other controversies in the public services. Now this organization is talking ambitiously about getting yet another legislative enactment, to make such findings by outside fact-finders binding upon the parties.

These are substantial concessions, in the perspective of the Wisconsin governmental experience. Mr. Oberbeck strikes us as a young man who is running too fast. He might trip himself.

Prohibition in Australia

One of the contentions of prohibitionists is that stricter laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages would tend to keep people from drinking so much.

Australia has some legalities about drinking that are worth looking at in this regard.

Most states in Australia allow pubs to be open from mid-morning until six in the evening. Business is not noticeably heavy until the late afternoon hours and what has come to be called the "six o'clock swill" begins around 5:30. The area around the bar gets packed with men eager to get more beer before closing time. In handing the mugs back to those in the back rows, a lot of beer gets spilled. And those who are not satisfied with the glass in hand want several more for the table.

At five minutes to six a bell rings and the orders come thick and fast. At six o'clock the bar closes. But customers have fifteen minutes to finish up their drinks—all of them. A few have been observed drinking as many as fourteen seven ounce glasses in the time allotted.

One state in Australia closes at ten o'clock but until recently also had to close for an hour between 6:30 and 7:30. Housewives had pushed this regulation through in the belief that husbands would then come home for the evening meal—and not go back. Wives in fact make up one group which defeats every referendum to liberalize the drinking hours.

The other major factor consists of the pub owners themselves. It isn't that Australian bartenders are averse to making more money. But they figure they sell as much grog in the hours they are now open as they would if they were extended. And if the bars were open until midnight the owners would have to work longer hours or hire extra help.

The consumption statistics bear out the bartenders' belief that they would sell no more even if there were more hours in the day and night unless Australians are a most peculiar breed of men. During the last year Australians drank 240 million gallons of beer or an average of 22 gallons for every man, woman and child. This is the world's fourth highest rate, behind only Belgium, West Germany and neighboring New Zealand.

The Australian wives may get their husbands home in time for supper or evening tea as they call it. But it is a reasonable certainty that a lot of them are not only full of beer but well doused with it as well.

Johnson Has Ability to Inject Friendliness Into Diplomacy

BY MAX FREEDMAN

Friends of President Johnson have always believed that he would be at his very best in personal discussions with a foreign leader. They remember his success when he toured the world as the emissary of President Kennedy. Now he must speak with the caution and authority that belongs to the President alone. In this new role he has acquired a special informal grace that can be a great asset to American diplomacy.

Freedman

One minor episode during his conference with Chancellor Erhard will reveal his touch. He told the chancellor that recent events had forced both of them to exercise unexpected qualities. He was renowned as a politician but since entering the White House he had spent much of his time working as an economist on the budget. Chancellor Erhard was a famous economist but he had to display his political genius in asserting Germany's influence in the conditions now prevailing in Europe.

This comparison produced a chuckle of agreement. But it did much more. It also united the President and the chancellor in that common bond which belongs to the masters of the political art.

We can expect many more strokes of this kind from President Johnson in his future diplomatic encounters. He will try to pierce the problems that divide governments so that he can establish confidential working relations with the heads of other governments. To this task he brings gifts of intuition and skill in negotiation rarely equalled by any other President. All this, of course, still leaves ample room for the precise labors of the diplomatic experts who must try to negotiate the binding agreements. But these experts have in Mr. Johnson a President who will work hard in mastering his complicated diplomatic brief, as President Kennedy did before him, and who will bring his own unique gifts for placing even the most troublesome negotiations in a pleasant setting. This can be a growing asset in American diplomacy.

As American officials continue to evaluate the Erhard-Johnson conference, they are pleased by certain tangible achievements that should prove to be of mutual benefit to West Germany and the United States.

The President and the chancellor are in sturdy agreement on the policies which should guide the NATO community and the Common Market. They agree that Russia should be encouraged to make further moves that can ease world tensions, even if this means that old assumptions about Central Europe must be examined anew. The chancellor has a new and more urgent appreciation of the President's concern over dollar expenditures in West Germany and is ready to consider measures to lighten the American load. The increase in the German defense budget will be roughly equal to the decrease in the American budget. It is no exaggeration to say that for the first time West Germany has a full appreciation of the Cuban problem. The chancellor gave assurances to the President that West Germany will support programs that will reduce Cuba's ability to disturb or threaten the security of this hemisphere.

It should be added in tribute to Chancellor Erhard that he made no attempt to hide his emotion when President Johnson described America's commitment to the alliance. President Johnson said he was sure that every American boy on duty with the six divisions in West Germany wanted to spend the holiday season with his family in the United States. But he was equally certain that every American soldier would agree that our troops should remain in Germany as long as they were needed and wanted. This simple but moving affirmation of policy made a greater appeal to Chancellor Erhard than could have been achieved by the most detailed exposition of American interests.

Chancellor Erhard also understood what President Johnson was trying to convey by the emphasis at the Texas ceremonies on our links with German traditions. Many of the President's neighbors are the descendants of Germans who came to Texas after the 1848 Revolution. These people represent a tradition of culture and of devotion to freedom that can never be expunged from the European story. After many sad vicissitudes this democratic and liberal tradition is once again shaping Germany's destiny. Chancellor Erhard spoke the complete truth when he told the German people that President Johnson is his friend. He could have added that West Germany in its peaceful purposes will have no stronger friend than President Johnson.

Government Expense, Rather Than Taxes, '64 Campaign Keynote

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The recently published review of the accomplishments of the 1963 legislature as prepared by Robert P. Knowles, the Republican majority leader in the senate, will inevitably be read also as the view of Warren P. Wyngaard Knowles, his brother and the prospective Republican nominee for the governorship in the elections of this year.

Legislator Knowles has probably indicated the main lines of the campaign theme of Candidate Knowles later this year, and especially as those themes will relate to fiscal decisions and fiscal problems. Sen. Knowles points with pride at the Republican legislature's trimming of some of Democratic Gov. Reynolds' budget proposals, its insistence upon "keeping Wisconsin from being the highest income tax state in the nation," as he puts it, and in defeating or sidetracking the Democratic administration's bold plans for borrowing of multi-million dollar sums for new purposes.

THE ISSUE

These will fit squarely the preferred stance of Warren Knowles as gubernatorial candidate, and will follow his own long record as legislator in earlier years when he showed himself to be a fiscal conservative.

Sen. Knowles says that the most "significant" achievement of the recent legislature was the creation of a special commission of leading citizens to examine into the causes of continued rises in the cost of state and local government, and the possibility of devising alternative state aid and other laws that might reduce the acceleration.

He might have related that this was the favorite idea of his brother, the gubernatorial candidate, who made the proposal in a guest column prepared for this space when he was lieutenant governor several years ago and Gov. Gaylord Nelson, Democrat, had established a similar study commission to examine into the tax revision problem.

Realistic and objective men may be cautious in their expectations of success from this commission. Nothing less than genius will be needed to arrest the cost spiral in state and local affairs.

But the fact of the existence of this study commission may very well bring about a somewhat different keynote in the gubernatorial campaign this year. Many Republicans believe, and it is a fair interpretation of the event, that Philip Kuehn lost the election by that historically narrow margin to John Reynolds in 1962 because Kuehn had been pushed into advocacy of the general sales tax. That permitted Reynolds to occupy the popular position of opposing it, without elaborating his own revenue alternatives.

TAX ISSUE

Nobody with even a cursory understanding of state finance can doubt that the sales tax question will again be the dominant one confronting the man who holds the governor's office after 1965.

But the existence of this study commission will give both candidates an opportunity to soft-pedal the brutal realities. Knowles will say when pressed that he would prefer the sales tax to an income tax rate that will be notorious because it is highest in the country. But he will say first that the great challenge is to find ways to reorganize state finance to reduce or avoid altogether the pressure for more taxation. Gov. Reynolds can continue to run against the sales tax, if he can make that posture believable after the enactment of the long list of specified levies in the last four years.

There is also a chance — although no serious statehouse official or aspirant will rely very strongly on it — that the "Gold Ribbon Commission" can devise some acceptable ways of slowing down the wearisome pattern of annual expenditure expansion.

Having Trouble With Your Develocitation?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The human organism resists change as much as possible; but once the change has been effected, it just as much resists returning to its previous state. Such resistance can explain a good deal of human behavior.

In police circles, for instance, traffic officers who know their jobs are aware of something called "velocitation," and another thing called "develocitation." These concepts tell us why so many people unwittingly break traffic laws.

"Develocitation" is a common experience all motorists have had. We are barreling along a superhighway at 70 miles an hour for a considerable period of time. The highway ends, and a road sign says: "Speed Zone — 25 Miles an Hour."

We slow down to 50 miles an hour — and it seems as if we are standing still. It is almost physically impossible to go 25 miles an hour after having gone 70 for so long; our bodies and minds resist the sudden develocitation. And, sometimes, we get a ticket for it.

"Velocitation," of course, operates in exactly the opposite fashion. We start out in town, carefully observing the 30 mile limit, which at the outskirts becomes 40 and then 50 — and finally we're cruising on the highway at 70.

Once we are up to that speed, it does not seem at all fast; indeed, after a few moments, there is no perceptible difference between our speed now and the time we were doing 25 mph in town. Once the change has been effected, we do not want to return to the previous state.

What is true for our mind and senses in the quite obvious and unquestioned area of driving a car is equally true in the area of other behavior. "Develocitation," for instance, frequently takes place in terms of money, and is responsible for a great deal of misery.

Somebody making $50,000 a year who suddenly is forced to take a cut to $25,000 feels more deprived than the man making only $10,000 — just as the motorist going from 70 to 25 mph feels he is standing still, even though the drivers in town are proceeding quite normally at that speed.

And the man whose money "speed" shoots up from 25 to 50 soon cannot imagine ever having made do with only 25; traveling fast and traveling rich quickly become the "normal" things to do. We tend to resist all change; even, funnily enough, change for the better, unless it is gradual and adjusted to our emotional gear-shift.

Sudden ups and downs are as disastrous for the individual as for the social order; this is one reason that a revolution, however badly needed, creates more problems than it solves.

Menasha Group to Give Concert

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Jan. 7, 1861.

An invitation has been extended by our citizens to a Menasha company of amateur performers, the Menasha Old Folks Concert Troupe, to give one of their entertainments in Appleton. The invitation has been accepted and Saturday evening, Jan. 16th, is the time fixed for the concert.

One of the Directors of the troupe has been in the city this week completing concert arrangements. The College Chapel has been engaged for the occasion.

We are aware that a bare announcement of "a concert" will attract but little attention from the general reader, therefore we take the liberty to explain.

The approaching concert is something different from performances generally called by that name. The performers all are experienced musicians and vocalizers. They appear in costumes of the "olden times." The music they make use of is the most ancient and in keeping with the name they have chosen.

But we must not tell too much. Except, if our people

Romney Move For Draft Seen As Strategic Recent Statements

Indicate Desire
For National Role

BY GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney's sudden availability for a draft for the Republican presidential nomination may be more of a strategic political move than a tactical one.

In announcing to a National Press Club audience Tuesday that he would have a duty to accept a genuine draft, Romney—in the view of some observers—could well have been making a calculated power play.

Romney Statements

Recent statements by the governor indicate he wants to play a more important role in national politics.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Romney said:

"What happens nationally has an important bearing on what happens to Michigan, and I certainly hope to pursue a course of activities that would permit me to have some influence on what might happen nationally in 1964."

Uncertain Before

If it had not been a certainty before, Romney assuredly will be placed in nomination on the first ballot at the San Francisco convention next July — probably as Michigan's "favorite son."

Since he can be expected to draw a number of votes from other state delegations, the governor may find himself playing an important role in deciding who gets the nomination.

Renk to Reveal Decision on Race Tuesday

SUN PRAIRIE (AP)—Wilbur Renk Sun Prairie farmer-businessman, plans to announce next Tuesday whether he will be a Republican candidate for U.S. Senator this year.

Renk said Tuesday that he was talking with many people all over the state to help him decide whether to make the race.

"My decision," he said, "will be based on whether I believe I have a contribution to make."

Renk lost the GOP nomination for governor in 1962 to Philip G. Kuehn of Whitefish Bay, who had the party endorsement. Kuehn then lost the election to Democrat John W. Reynolds.

Leaders Seek Harmony

Republican leaders have tried since the election to heal the intra-party breach the Kuehn-Renk fight caused. They are urging Renk to enter to provide a running mate for former Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles, who seeks the GOP nomination for governor.

Renk added:

"Next summer I will either be in Sun Prairie harvesting corn or out in the state trying to harvest votes. In either case, I am hoping for a bountiful harvest."

If Renk runs and wins the nomination, he probably will oppose Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who has not announced his candidacy but is expected to do so soon.

Renk is a former University of Wisconsin regent.

Astronauts to Test Gemini

HOUSTON (AP)—Astronauts and engineers will take a Gemini test vehicle into Galveston Bay next month or early March to test its equipment.

The spacecraft will be a full-size model of the two-man space vehicle in which the next U.S. space flights will be made.

Peter Armitage, director of the test series, said Tuesday the capsule contains all working systems needed to keep an astronaut alive 36 hours after landing.

Lodge Says He Turned Down Request to Run In Wisconsin Primary

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today he has been asked to run in the Wisconsin Republican presidential primary but that he has declined.

Lodge's disclosure followed repeated denials by the ambassador that he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Wisconsin Rep. John Byrnes has agreed to head an uncommitted, uncontested, delegation as his state's favorite son to the Republican National Convention, provided all major Republican candidates stay out of the Wisconsin primary April 7.

The possibility that Lodge might be a dark-horse candidate for the Republican nomination was raised last month.

Lawrence Says

Philadelphia
Judges Ignore
Supreme Court

Use Same Reasoning
As Southern Judges
In Face of Violence

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The courts of Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Louisiana, Tennessee and Georgia got a strange but significant vindication a few days ago as they noted that rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States were being calmly ignored.

Lawrence not by southern but by northern judges. For a three-judge Court of Common Pleas in Philadelphia unanimously ordered an injunction issued against the use of "blackface" makeup in a street parade even through the Pennsylvania court itself acknowledged there is no law prohibiting such a costume.

The Philadelphia judges applied the same line of reasoning as their southern brethren on the bench have used in taking cognizance of possible violence. Not only were participants in the parade forbidden to wear the costumes they have used for decades in the so-called "Mummers Parade," held annually by private organizations, but demonstrations by Negro pickets who objected to the burnt-cork makeup were prohibited by the new court order.

Many a judge in the south in the last few years has been confronted with somewhat similar situations. Threats of violence, publicized in the community, have led to tension and fear of bloodshed.

Ruling Overturned
But the Supreme Court of the United States on May 20, 1963, overturned a ruling of the Supreme Court of Georgia in a case in which it had been argued that the convicted Negroes were guilty of breach of the peace "because their activity was likely to cause a breach of the peace by others." The high court declared:

"And the possibility of disorder by others cannot justify exclusion of persons from a place if they otherwise have a constitutional right—founded upon the equal protection clause—to be present."

The Supreme Court had similarly held on Feb. 25, 1963, that the conviction of 187 Negro students in South Carolina for breach of the peace should be reversed because this violated the Negroes' constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression. The students had demonstrated on the grounds of the South Carolina State House. A large crowd had gathered to watch. The students were told to disperse by police officials. They were convicted by state courts of breach of the peace. Justice Stewart, speaking for the Supreme Court, said:

Infringed Rights
"And it is clear to us that in arresting, convicting, and punishing the petitioners under the circumstances disclosed by this record, South Carolina infringed the petitioners' constitutionally protected rights of free speech, free assembly, and freedom to petition for redress of their grievances."

Also, on Dec. 11, 1961, the Supreme Court held in a Louisiana case that "sit-in" demonstrators at a lunch counter did not break the state law on breaches of the peace which punishes "passive conduct likely to cause a public disturbance."

In a Tennessee case decided May 27, 1963, the city of Memphis had claimed that a gradual desegregation plan was necessary to prevent interracial disturbances, violence, riots, and community confusion and turmoil. The Supreme Court, however, ruled that "constitutional rights may not be denied simply because of hostility to their assertion or exercise." It ordered immediate desegregation.

In Philadelphia last week the three judges admitted they were influenced by the sentiment of the Negro citizens, who constitute a very substantial proportion of the city's population, and hence they decided that the protest against the use of "blackface" was a forerunner of trouble. This is a conspicuous case of yielding to community sentiment, even though the exercise of constitutional rights is denied at the same time.

Neenah Councilman Attacks Board of Education Action

C. B. Coenen Criticizes Move To Stop School Bus Services

NEENAH — The Joint Neenah District School Board again was blasted today by Sixth Ward Ald. Carl B. Coenen for their discontinuance of city school bus service to comply with a $70,000 budget cut imposed by the common council.

Coenen also reiterated his stand on the school board-council relationship and the increase in Neenah property taxes. "I think it would be in the best interests of the city if the school board would reinstate the transportation of city youngsters who live over two miles from the senior or junior high school, at least for the remainder of this school year."

"Morally Responsible?" "As far as those youngsters living across 41 are concerned, I insist the school board transport them across this dangerous highway. If one of these youngsters is hurt or killed, I as an alderman of that ward, will hold the school board morally responsible," he said.

Previously, Coenen attacked the bus service stopping which will affect city students in grade 7-12.

Coenen, a constant opponent to the 60 acre Swatscheno Farm allotment to the school boards, urged every citizen of the city to call the aldermen who approved the land dedication and make their thoughts known.

"Let's not give or waste this land just because we have a little extra," he said. "It is very valuable."

Dictate Budget

Continuing his attack on the school board Coenen said, "Up to now the school board has always dictated to the City of Neenah council as far as money for their budget is concerned."

"I sincerely believe we (aldermen) as representatives of the people will have to take over this record to 6-0 with a 83-50 job and dictate to them (school board) trouncing of Green Bay last board as far as their total weekend. Sheboygan downed budget monies are concerned." (Fox Valley, 81-71, in the only He continued, "In essence I other contest.

would like to see the possibility of a tax cut in the City of Neenah or at least a holding of our present level for a few years."

The Sixth Ward alderman said the rise of the tax rate will

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEREETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour, chafe, "plate your breath". Get FASTEREETH at drug counters everywhere.

Neenah Council Eyes Crossing Guard Proposal

Committee Wants Authority to Direct Traffic

NEENAH — A recommendation to the Neenah Common Council that women crossing guards be allowed to direct traffic at any time while on the job, will be made by the public protection committee at the regular council session Wednesday, Jan. 15.

Committee chairman Peter Fara, said today that his group gave unanimous approval to the proposal which must now meet with council approval.

If passed at next week's meeting, the proposal will necessitate a change in the crossing guard ordinance.

At present the guards are allowed only to direct traffic if it is to assist school children across an intersection.

However, the ordinance change will permit them to direct traffic at any time while they are on the job at their respective intersections.

Neenah traffic is especially heavy at two of the guard's intersections — Division Street at the Neenah High School, and Forest Avenue and First Street.

It is expected that much of the congestion will be relieved if the guards are permitted to direct the flow of traffic unconditionally.

At the protection committee's meeting, Police Chief Lawrence Malouf emphasized the need for the guards to have a free hand to direct traffic, and said that he'd be willing to see that all of Neenah's 10 guards had a refresher course in intersection traffic directing.

The whole crossing guard problem evolved out of an accident in which a motorist failed to heed a guard's signal and caused an accident.

2 Ordinances Okayed By Menasha Aldermen

MENASHA — Members of the Menasha common council Tuesday night, meeting in a short and possibly most uneventful meeting within the past 18 months, approved two ordinances which will pertain only to the police department and gave approval for an agreement with the state on bridge operation and with the utility commission for a pipe line crossing.

The ordinances designed Police Chief Lester Clark as authorized agent to collect stipulations of guilt fines for the city and authorized the collection of stipulations of violations other than that of traffic.

Council approved an agreement with the State of Wisconsin to operate drawbridges here this year. Under the agreement the city hires and pays for employees and is reimbursed by the state.

Action

Council authorized replacement of manhole covers on the northside storm sewer project; sent to the finance committee a request from the fire department for an additional man; and accepted a petition from residents at Borenz Court for curb and gutter and paving there.

Named to Commission

Council approved withdrawal of bids for fuel oil by Cities Service and accepted the bid of Sunray DX to supply the city with fuel.

Rufin Suess, member of the Menasha Electric and Water Utility Commission, was reelected to a five year term expiring Oct. 1, 1968. There were no other nominations for the post.

Zoning Hearing

Council set Feb. 4 for a public hearing on a request by E. and R. Construction Co. to rezone 334 Naymut Street to multiple family housing.

Members of council accepted and approved a recommendation of the police department to install a stop sign on Fourth Street going onto Appleton Street at the southwest corner.

Also approved was that one key to the gasoline pump at the city garage be made available to the officer in charge of the police department for use during weekends and holidays.

Housekeeper Gets Bulk of $45,000 Estate

OSHKOSH — A housekeeper for 31 years was named by her employer to receive the bulk of her estate estimated at about $45,000.

County Judge Herbert J. Mueller Tuesday admitted to probate the second of two wills made within six days by the late Eleanor Nelson of Oshkosh who died March 4, 1963. Two weeks ago he ruled that the housekeeper, Helen Neubauer, had not used undue influence upon Eleanor Nelson.

The second will left $10,000 to Dr. R. H. Bitter of Oshkosh, who was named executor of the estate, $1,000 each to two second cousins, Henry G. Johnson, route 4, Oshkosh, and Margaret L. Stevens, Minneapolis, $100 to the Oshkosh branch of the Wisconsin Humane Society and $1,000 to be shared by seven other persons.

The City of Oshkosh, which had been left some land for a small park in the first will, was among those contesting admission of the second will. The city was not mentioned for any benefit in the second will.

3M Officials Give School Teaching Lab In Event Thursday

NEENAH — Official presentation of the $3,000 gift to Neenah High School from the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., St. Paul, Minn., was made Tuesday by Larry Venable, the 3M Company's area representative.

The bonanza was a teaching laboratory made up of 10 classroom overhead projectors, a portable projector, two transparency makers, transparency film and copy paper. It is one of 500 similar gifts made in a $1.5 million grant from the 3M Company to elementary, secondary, vocational and special schools throughout the nation.

Miss Blanche McIntyre, curriculum coordinator, told the members of the Neenah Joint School District teaching staff and special guests at the "christening" how proposals for use of such equipment were requested from the social studies, mathematics, science, art, English and special education departments.

Missionary to Deliver Sermon

Fremont Native Will Talk at Appleton Church Sunday

Mission Sunday will be observed in Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, 2219 E. College Ave., Sunday, with missionary Thomas Going of Japan as guest speaker.

Pastor Going's sermon theme for the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services is "A Message from Japan." In addition to addressing the Sunday school at 9:15 a.m., the Rev. Mr. Going will present a slide-lecture at 7 p.m. of his work in Japan.

Pastor Going, a native of Fremont, is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Louis Going of rural Shawano. After graduating from Weyauwega High School in 1952, he attended Bethany Luther a n College of Mankato, Minn., and Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill., where he was graduated in June of 1953.

Four Children
Pastor Going is married to the former Adrienne Joy Welch of Oshkosh. They have four children.

After graduating from Concordia Seminary, Pastor Going accepted the call of the Board for World Missions of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, to Japan. The Goings were commissioned on Aug. 31, 1958, at Sycamore, Ill., and left the United States on Sept. 17 for Tokyo. They have served in the Tokyo area since then.

After their current furlough in the United States, the Goings plan to return to their work in Japan.

Judges Ignore Supreme Court

"Mummers Parade" in Philadelphia for many years. Heretofore they have not been considered objectionable by Negro organizations. The stunts were part of an occasion of fun and frolic. The "blackface" minstrel show has a long history in America, growing out of the Negro's own facility for music and laughter. Now it is apparently regarded as an insult by the Negro organizations which lodged the protest. Some members threatened violence unless the "Mummers" discontinued this feature of its parade.

Shall the courts take into consideration the feelings and sentiment of a community, irrespective of whether there is any law or court order involved? Do citizens have a right to demonstrate and parade and use whatever costumes they like? The Philadelphia judges' answer apparently is that, where strong sentiment is involved, the courts must take it into account.

Southern Judges
That's precisely what the southern court judges have done, only to encounter widespread criticism in the north. Indeed, the Supreme Court of the United States once held that "to cry 'fire' in a crowded theatre" is not a right of free speech protected by the first amendment to the constitution. The Philadelphia judges evidently thought they, too, have a right to prevent a panic or violence in the streets, and so, in effect, they also subordinated the right to demonstrate when it appeared to be contrary to local sentiment. One wonders what the Supreme Court of the United States may say in answer to the action of the Philadelphia judges.

3 Republicans In Harsh Attack On Governor

You're really desperate for an issue, but it won't work," by Assemblyman Paul R. Alfonsi of Minocqua, Republican floor leader of the assembly.

"It is deplorable that the governor and his advisers are so hungry for a political issue that they continue to make the unfortunates of our society pawns for politics," by Assemblyman Curtis McKay of Mequon, assistant Republican leader of the legislature's lower house.

Angered by Threat

The bitter denunciation of the governor to his face came as a result of Reynolds' public statements of the last several weeks accusing the Republican members of the committee of heartlessly denying his proposal to build four instead of two additional infirmaries for mentally retarded children at Central Colony near Madison. What set off the fuse, according to McKay, was Reynolds' press conference statement of last week in which he threatened to bring up the proposal at every building commission meeting until he had won his point.

Tuesday's uproar showed that the Republicans are more angry about Reynolds' political tactics than about the merits of the case.

Schmidt Criticized

McKay and Leonard complained also that Wilbur Schmidt, director of the State Department of Public Welfare, and other Reynolds advisers have not been consistent in reporting statistics on populations and waiting lists at the state institutions for the care of the retarded.

The latest figures, said McKay, indicate that the state may need six new infirmaries rather than four as originally asserted. McKay then won approval of the commission, including Reynolds, for a delay of the issue for a week, pending another review of the statistical material. The commission will reconvene next Tuesday.

The basic cause for the outbursts in the capitol is the governor's habit of aggressive publicity backing for his pet projects. He has made welfare institution expansion one of the keystones of his first year in office. (The anniversary of his inauguration was Tuesday.) During his first budget hearings he arranged for the production of a motion picture film of some of the institutions, with many of the inmates shown. Republicans struck at that technique as illegitimate, and put through the legislature a resolution denouncing the tactic. When Reynolds seemed about to repeat the device on the issue of building new buildings at Central Colony, the Republican members of the commission apparently decided to fight back.

Allege Misrepresentation

The gist of the McKay-Leonard attack is that other elected officials should be able to assert their convictions without being misrepresented. Leonard claimed the effect of Reynolds' charges is to spread the idea that "I hate mentally retarded children," which he said is equivalent to character assassination. McKay told Reynolds, red-faced with excitement, that he was so angry last Friday after reading the governor's press conference comments that "had I seen you then I probably would have punched you in the nose."

"Before that I didn't hate you," he added. Reynolds responded mildly, saying that he is aware of his own limitations and that "much of what you say is probably true."

But he said he is concerned about building the infirmaries buildings, which are already two years behind schedule, and that he is convinced that there is a documented need for them.

Won't Let Schmidt Speak

Reynolds then tried to invite Welfare Director Schmidt to make a comment, but Leonard, obviously still very angry, objected and with the support of the other Republican members insisted on an immediate vote on the McKay motion for a delay of the issue for next Tuesday's meeting. Schmidt, astonished by the turn of events, left the room audibly indicating distress.

Several of the Republicans also voiced suspicions that the governor or one of his subordinates had inspired political pressure upon the building commission members, including telephone calls, telegrams and other communications from the parents of retarded children who want space in the state treatment institutions.

Such tactics are unworthy of public officials, they said, and Leonard for good measure struck out also at some of the governor's advisors for what he called unreliable material submitted to the commission as official documentation of the welfare department's needs.

Johnson Airs Surprise Budget of $97.9 Billion

—preferably in cooperation with the Soviet Union — to put a man on the moon by 1970.

Prosperity and Peace

Prosperity at home and peace in the world were the broad goals cited by the President, who sought to balance conciliation and determination in discussing cold war problems.

"We intend to bury no one and we do not intend to be buried. We can fight, if we must, as we have fought before—but we pray we will never have to fight again," the President said.

As for specific administration policies, Johnson made these major points in the election year address intended to set the tone for the 1964 congressional session:

— Federal spending in the 1965 fiscal year that begins July 1 is scheduled to total $97.9 billion — comfortably below Johnson's announced target of $100 billion. Forecast revenues of $93 billion indicate a deficit of $4.9 billion, or less than half the fiscal 1964 estimate.

Uranium Reduction

—Production of enriched uranium, used in nuclear weapons and small reactors like those in nuclear submarines will be slashed 25 per cent by June 30 — the first cutback since the first atomic bomb was dropped in 1945. Said Johnson: "We call on our adversaries to do the same." And he justified the decision by declaring: "We must not stockpile arms beyond our needs or seek an excess of military power that could be provocative as well as wasteful."

— "As far as the writ of federal law will run," said the President, "we must abolish not some but all racial discrimination." He emphasized that he wants a civil rights law that will include a ban on discrimination by private businesses serving the general public—the most controversial item in the measure now pending in the House.

War on Poverty

— "This administration here and now declares unconditional war on poverty in America," Johnson declared. He said he will propose cooperative federal-state-local programs to promote "better schools, better health, better homes, better training and better job opportunities."

— He asked Congress to set up special committees empowered to increase the time-and-a-half overtime pay rate in industries "where consistently excessive use of overtime causes increased unemployment." He did not name any industries or suggest alternative overtime pay scales.

— The United States, Johnson announced, will make "new proposals," which he did not specify, at Geneva disarmament talks later this month.

U. S. Moon Quest

— He is determined to try to put a man on the moon by 1970 — "in cooperation with other powers if possible, alone if necessary." This echoed a September proposal by Kennedy for a joint American-Soviet moon program — an idea that got a cool reception in Moscow. Johnson's message, the shortest State of the Union report since 1934, cited these broad goals of national policy: "A nation that is free from want and a world that is free from hate, a world of peace and justice, freedom and abundance, for our time and for all time to come."

Johnson said "our ultimate goal is a world without war." In this connection, he said the United States at Geneva will suggest new steps "toward the control and eventual abolition of arms."

But even in the absence of disarmament agreement, he said, weapons must not be stockpiled on a wasteful and provocative scale.

"It is in this spirit," he said, "that in this fiscal year we are cutting back our production of enriched uranium by 25 per cent, shutting down four plutonium piles and closing many non-essential military installations. And it is in this spirit that we call on our adversaries to do the same."

Fewer Weapons

Enriched uranium is used in a broad variety of atomic weapons and small, specialized reactors and in the triggering devices for hydrogen bombs. The plutonium piles are reactors that manufacture plutonium — a fissionable material with much the same uses as enriched uranium.

While Johnson did not say so specifically in his message, he implied that reduced output of uranium and plutonium would lead to reduced production of nuclear weapons.

Johnson's emphasis in the domestic field was on proposals to wage "all-out war on human poverty and unemployment in these United States." Most of the ideas he endorsed were generated during the Kennedy administration.

Kennedy Program

"Let us carry forward the plans and programs of John Fitzgerald Kennedy — not because of our sorrow or sympathy — but because they are right," Johnson said.

And he followed up with a passage that took note of the November presidential and congressional elections:

"In his (Kennedy's) memory I especially ask all members of my own political faith—in this election year — to put country ahead of party, and to debate principles, not personalities."

At least one antipoverty proposal — involving overtime pay — bore the Johnson stamp.

35-Hour Week

The President said that while he opposes the idea of a 35-hour week, he is equally opposed to the 45 or 50-hour week in those industries which consistently schedule overtime work.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said last week that elimination of overtime would create the equivalent of 919,000 fulltime jobs. The aim of higher overtime pay would be to encourage employers to hire additional workers rather than schedule overtime work.

In the area of economics, Johnson laid greatest stress on the House-passed tax cut bill. Until the measure is enacted, he said, "its investment incentives cannot be deemed certain" and the basic rate for withholding taxes from take-home pay cannot be cut from 15 per cent to 14 per cent. The latter move would increase U.S. wage earners' after-tax income by $200 million a month — an amount that would be immediately available for spending or investment.

Called Newsmen

Johnson called newsmen into the White House rose garden before he went to the Capitol to deliver his nationally televised and broadcast speech and added a few points that were not specified in the message.

For one thing, he estimated that about $1 billion will be set aside for the antipoverty program. He said $300 million of this will be spent in fiscal 1965 starting next July 1, some additional amounts will be spent from existing programs and $200 million will be requested for use in future years.

The President also disclosed that he met during the morning with Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, to discuss the message.

Assess Reaction

Asked to assess the reaction of economy-minded Byrd to the budget figures, Johnson said Byrd seemed to register "pleased surprise."

Sitting in on the sessions were the ranking Republican members of the two committees. Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware and Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Johnson said the budget has been growing at the rate of $5 billion a year, and suggested that had he produced a "normal" budget it would have amounted to $103.8 billion.

He said he whittled down the total by trying to "cut away all fat and waste" and stop needless activities.

He described the defense budget which is sharing in the cuts, as being in "lean, hard shape, with the fat eliminated."

Seeks Action

Because of these factors, Johnson said, "I urge the Congress to take final action on this bill by the first of February."

The lower tax rates would be retroactive to Jan. 1. In discussing civil rights, Johnson expressed hope that this year's Congress will be the one "which did more for civil rights than the last hundred sessions combined."

Saying that all Americans should have equal access to facilities open to the public, should have equal voting rights, equal access to good schools and equal eligibility for federal benefits, Johnson said:

"Today Americans of all races stand side by side in Berlin and Viet Nam. They died side by side in Korea. Surely they can work and eat and travel side by side in America."

Immigration Quotas

The President called, too, for an end to discrimination in immigration. He recommended eliminating the country-of-origin immigration quotas that generally discriminate against those who were born in southern or eastern Europe.

As for the war on poverty, Johnson urged extension of the $1.25 hourly minimum wage to

2 million workers not covered by the program. And he endorsed these additional steps:

Expansion of the area redevelopment program, enactment of youth employment legislation, a broader surplus food stamp plan, a special effort in impoverished sections of the Appalachian region, a domestic Peace Corps, federal school aid, an expanded housing program, a mass transit program and hospital insurance for older citizens.

Federal School Aid

Johnson did not get into the touchy topic of federal aid to parochial schools. Nor did he mention the comprehensive farm legislation he hopes Congress will pass in 1964.

Steps to control and eventually abolish arms output were among 10 ways in which Johnson said progress toward peace could be achieved in 1964. Some of the others included:

Maintenance of a "margin of military safety and superiority;" increased sales, loans or gifts of food to hungry people in all nations; continued efforts to "assure our pre-eminence in the peaceful exploration of outer space;" expansion of world trade; a continued pledge to prevent devaluation of the dollar and a more rigorous administration of foreign aid with larger roles for private investors.

More than 110 feet beyond the scarred, but still standing power pole, the car came to rest on its wheels.

Victims were Robert W. Pantzlaff, 16, route 1, Whitelaw (Manitowoc County), and Bruce

W. Gehrke, 16, of Denmark. In good condition at Bellin Memorial Hospital are Wayne Knuth, 16, Maribel, the driver, Robert Cervenka, 18, Eugene Petska, 16, Eugene Dahlke, 17, and William Johnson, 16, all of rural Denmark. All suffered cuts and bruises. Dahlke suffered a broken leg.

The accident was reported at 12:37 a.m. today. The scene is about eight miles southeast of Green Bay.

Wants Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations has called on world leaders to take advantage of the lull in the cold war to campaign for peaceful coexistence.

Farm Leader Has Urged Agency to End Rural Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farm leader urged today that a new federal agency be created with broad lending powers to spearhead a drive to end poverty in rural America.

Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, proposed such an agency in a world talk prepared for the Northeast Resources Development meeting in the lull in the cold war to campaign for peaceful coexistence.

the Rural Cooperatives Administration and would be located in the Agriculture Department. It would have authority and funds to make loans for promotion of job-making activities in rural areas.

Ellis said the problems of rural poverty had been largely overlooked in the past as the country concentrated on programs to eliminate city slums and other poverty conditions in urban areas.

Ellis said the new agency would help develop appropriate talk prepared for the Northeast Resources Development meeting in the lull in the cold war to campaign for peaceful coexistence.

New U. S. Judge Tackles Pileup Of Court Cases

Rabinovitz Begins Work in Western District of State

SHEBOYGAN (AP) — David Rabinovitz, recipient of an interim appointment as U.S. district judge for western Wisconsin, started work today on a huge backlog of cases that have piled up in the last year.

Rabinovitz, a 55-year-old attorney, was named Tuesday by President Johnson in a dramatic last-minute move before the Senate officially convened.

"I will begin reading the files of cases and laying out my work, calling in lawyers for pre-trial conferences and similar matters," said Rabinovitz as he made plans to go to Madison today. "I am sure I will do the job and the lawyers will be satisfied."

The controversial Sheboygan labor specialist resigned his post as Democratic national committeeman for Wisconsin and said he also would resign as a member of the party.

Rabinovitz was in the middle of a hearing at Sheboygan when a call from the White House advised him of the appointment, and told him he had 15 minutes to be sworn in before the Senate officially convened at noon.

Reynolds Target of Bitter GOP Attack

Britain Won't End Bus Sales To Cubans

LONDON (AP) — The British government says it won't stop the sale of $11.2 million worth of British buses and spare parts to Cuba because they aren't strategic goods.

The Board of Trade, Britain's equivalent of the U.S. Commerce Department, shrugged off U.S. criticism of a deal that will help restore the Castro regime's crippled public transportation system.

"Manufacturers are at liberty to sell as and when they find the opportunity," said a Board of Trade spokesman. "There has never been a boycott on the country by Britain. That is the situation and we don't see any reason to depart from this at present. We have quite an extensive trade with Cuba."

Under a five-year credit arrangement, Leyland Motors Ltd. will sell 400 buses and $1.1 million worth of spare parts to Cuba. The company said it expects an order for 1,000 additional buses.

"You would look damned silly going to war in a bus," said Leyland's managing director, Donald Stokes, today. "Anyway, we haven't any war with Cuba and we buy sugar from them."

Stokes said the company in April will begin shipping about 100 buses a month by East German freighters. He said his company had turned to Communist shipping because of the U.S. blacklist on ships that carry cargo to Cuba.

Volcano Blamed For 14 Deaths

SAN JOSE (AP) — Since it stirred from a long sleep last March, Irazu volcano has caused widespread destruction and at least 14 deaths, Costa Rican officials report.

A national commission has been created to deal with the crisis. Up to two pounds per square yard of volcanic ash have been deposited on Costa Rica's central plateau, destroying 90 per cent of the tobacco crop and inflicting heavy damage to other crops.

Accused of Making Retarded Children Pawns for Politics In Drive for Extra Buildings

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Long smoldering political animosity in the state government exploded into an angry blaze at a meeting of the usually quiet state building commission Tuesday afternoon.

Gov. John Reynolds, Democratic executive chief of the state and chairman of the commission, was denounced by Republican foes in the legislature in words as harsh as have been heard in Wisconsin public life for a long time.

Three of the legislature's most prominent men, also members of the commission and representing its voting majority, took turns in scolding Reynolds for what they claim are his illicit methods of political pressure to gain his objectives from the commission against the convictions of its other members.

No Reply From Reynolds

Reynolds sat without response, although with something like shock showing on his face, as he was told:

"You have substituted political press releases for leadership, but you can't lead men by brow-beating them," by Sen. Jerris Leonard of suburban Milwaukee, chairman of the Republican policy committee of the senate.

"You're doing a 'con' job."

Rapid Recovery Made by Nehru

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP) — Ailing Prime Minister Nehru was reported feeling better today after a restful night, and an associate said he might be back on the job in another day.

The Indian leader, 74, here for the annual meeting of his ruling Congress party, canceled all engagements Tuesday. Doctors ordered him to bed, saying he was suffering from weakness and high blood pressure.

Doctors summoned from New Delhi advised Nehru to take a complete rest and accept no engagements for two weeks. In the first announcement, later changed to "two weeks" was changed to "for the present."

But Kumarawami Kamaraj, Nadar, Congress party president, visited Nehru today and reported to the party session that the prime minister was in excellent health and excellent spirits.

Byrnes Limits 'Favorite Son' Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who has agreed to be a "favorite son" candidate for Wisconsin for the GOP presidential nomination, said Tuesday that he would spend only a limited time campaigning.

The 50-year-old Byrnes said that his basic responsibilities as a congressman would tend to limit the time he could devote to the campaign for delegates in the Wisconsin April 7 presidential primary.

Byrnes is chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee and ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee.

Byrnes apparently will not be required to campaign in the usual way because he is not expected to have major opposition. Major candidates such as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, have indicated they would not enter the Wisconsin primary. If either enters the primary Byrnes said he would withdraw.

Schadeberg Target For State Democrats

JANESVILLE (AP) — Wisconsin's Democratic chairman said Tuesday night that the party has made defeat of Rep. Henry Schadeberg, R-Wis., a "priority goal" for this year.

J. Louis Hanson told a 1st District Democratic caucus that Schadeberg was "part and parcel of the conspiracy of the right wing that refused to let the legislative branch of our government function."

Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Leonard Hall, right, of New York City, one-time Republican national chairman, pose Tuesday at the Washington National Press Club where Romney delivered a luncheon address. In his speech, the Republican governor of Michigan called upon his party's leadership to take the initiative and make the GOP a 'creative minority' that ultimately can 'regain' power. (AP Wirephoto)

Lost in Yukon Wilds

Dog Food Helps Keep Pair Alive for 30 Days

WATSON LAKE, Y. T. (AP) — Six pounds of dog food, much further we had to go, scrounged from an empty trap- per's cabin, helped sustain a Yukon Territory couple through 30 days of hunger, pain and exhaustion while lost in bush country east of Watson Lake.

William Alexander McDiarmid, 43, a trapper, and his wife, Maggie, 25, were reported in good condition Tuesday night after being flown here.

They left their cabin on Larsen Lake Dec. 5 to snowshoe to Smith River, 60 miles away. After a few days of blizzards and deep snow, they were lost.

"By that time my feet were frozen up to the knees," McDiarmid said. "We knew our way back but weren't sure how much further we had to go. "My nose kept bleeding. We had macaroni on Christmas Day. I had a sardine sandwich and Maggie had some canned sausage."

Reports to Mounties "Our New Year's dinner was macaroni and canned sardines. Our food ran out and we ate moss and snow. We found six pounds of dog food in a cabin and ate that."

Bush pilot Bob Harrison, who was supposed to meet the couple at their cabin door, notified the Mounties. The Mounties sent a plane out New Year's day without success and Harrison flew over the area the next day.

"While flying over the snow, I suddenly saw snowshoe tracks and I followed them," Harrison said. "I saw a fire and a figure waving a blanket."

A ground party arrived the next day and fed the couple hamburger and stew.

Barricades Come Down in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Roadblocks started coming down in battle-torn Cyprus today but the Greek and Turkish communities mostly eyed each other from a safe distance.

Under an agreement announced Tuesday, both sides undertook to dismantle the barbed wire barricades and withdraw squads of armed men who had been posted on boundaries between Nicosia's Greek and Turkish sectors since the recent communal strife.

The principal object of the agreement was to restore freedom of communications and the transport of essential supplies in the island. But there seemed little likelihood of large-scale resumption of intermingling between the communities. Leaders of both communities appealed to their followers not to venture too soon across the boundary lines.

Spending $500 Million Smaller Than Record Figures Under Kennedy

BY FRANK CARMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today a surprise budget cut to $97.9 billion, even below the current level. And he told Congress he will slash output of weapon-making uranium by 25 per cent — a move he challenged the Soviets to match.

In an unusually brief yet meaty State of the Union message, delivered in person at a joint session of Congress, Johnson also declared "unconditional war on poverty in America." He ticked off his specific policy ideas for the first time since he became President seven weeks ago following the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Johnson's proposals — many requiring action by Congress — were aimed at problems ranking from the depths of poverty to the height of the moon.

For most taxpayers, the biggest surprise probably lay in the budget disclosures. At $97.9 billion, the first Johnson spending plan would be $500 million smaller than the latest estimate of spending under Kennedy's final, record-setting budget.

Johnson described his budget as "efficient, honest and frugal." And he said it will maintain "the full strength of our defenses" while providing "the most federal support in history for education, for health, for retraining the unemployed and for helping the economically and physically handicapped."

Civil Rights Bill

Endorsing some two dozen proposals in about 2,900 words, the chief executive urged Congress to bring his programs "to a fair and final vote." He called for the strongest civil rights bill in 100 years, enactment of a massive tax cut by Feb. 1, new steps toward disarmament and selective increases in overtime pay rates.

Other Johnson programs — many inherited from Kennedy — included broader minimum wage coverage, hospital insurance for the aged, an end to discriminatory immigration quotas, a bigger housing program, and a determined effort

State Widens Kenosha Probe

KENOSHA (AP) — Atty. Gen. George Thompson said Tuesday that his office will bring various state agencies into the John Doe investigation in Kenosha.

Thompson issued a statement saying an intelligence plan had been prepared to determine how many special investigators will work in the probe. He declined to say which agencies would join the probe or what their duties would be.

The plan has been put into effect and should take 10 days to two weeks to complete, the attorney general said. His list of participating public officials included Kenosha County Judge Harry Carlson, who is presiding over the investigation, and Dist. Atty. Joseph Molinaro, and others in Molinaro's office.

Ambulance Blocked After Fatal Accident

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — Returning from a grocery, Mrs. Elbert Couch was struck and killed by a freight train at a crossing near Hazard Tuesday. An ambulance arrived but the train had stopped on the crossing and blocked it.

Driver Danny Brashear picked up a stretcher and began walking across a bridge. As he did so, police said, the train started up and toppled him off the span. He suffered a leg injury.

Austrian Ex-Chancellor Believed Near Death

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The condition of former Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab, 72, deteriorated today. His physicians were said to have given up hope for him.

Raab was hospitalized Monday after being taken ill during a vacation in nearby Baden. He has been given the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Denmark Basketball Players Die in Crash After Game

DENMARK — It had been a thrilling basketball game with Mishicot High School scoring a 69-67 upset Tuesday over Denmark High — but before the evening was over two youths lay dead in a snow covered field.

On the way to Green Bay, one of the youths decided to go home, so the station wagon swung onto a county trunk. After the youth was dropped off, the station wagon resumed its trip to Green Bay.

Heading east on County Trunk MM in the Town of DePere, the station wagon flashed past the Elm View School and headed into a sharp curve. A yellow sign warned of the curve.

Lay Dead

The car entered the curve. Too late, its driver realized he was going too fast. His foot slammed onto the brake pedal. The car skidded 142 feet and swung sideways. Its right rear fender slammed into a utility pole 22 feet off the roadway. The impact nearly ripped an entire section from the car. One of the youths, seated near the point of impact, flew through the tear in the car. His head slapped against the pole and he fell to the ground, dead alongside the pole.

The car continued its out-of-control motion, gyrating madly through the field adjacent to the road. It flipped over, and

New London Starts Sewer Study Plan

Project Would be Coordinated With City Master Blueprint

NEW LONDON — A program to coordinate a master plan of the city's sewer system will be discussed at a meeting of the commission Feb. 3. At that time the planners will have a land use study completed and ready for presentation to the commission.

Representatives of a planning firm and an engineering firm outlined a program whereby the sewer project can be coordinated with a master plan now being completed.

Both representatives agreed it would be more economical for the two planning groups joining forces.

Undesirable Odor
One of the main reasons for starting the sewer program as soon as possible is an undesirable odor apparently from the sewage treatment plant.

An engineer explained although the plant is not overloaded in quantity, the BOD (biochemical oxygen demand) load is more than double the plant's capacity.

This overload is mainly due to a local industry which has in recent years started producing cheese in large quantities. he said and is difficult to dispose of.

Planning for future industrial waste is one of the most difficult jobs of a planner, the engineer said.

To handle the present load and still allow for normal growth of the city, an additional 80-foot filter bed should be constructed, he added.

Robert Gagnow, Seymour, Herbert Brei, Greenville Named Runners-Up in JC Test

Started 9 Years Ago
This year's winner started farming nine years ago with 22 head of cattle averaging a modest 218 pounds of butterfat. He has built his herd to an impressive 33 head on the comparatively small farm. The milk cows have more than doubled their butterfat average.

May Construct Auditorium

New Fine Arts Wing Would Seat Between 600, 800 People

A fine arts wing with a 600 to 800-seat auditorium may be added to Xavier High School within the next two years.

There has been speculation about the addition, which school officials say is badly needed. No definite plans on construction dates or costs have been made.

The wing would include a band room, art laboratory, dramatics area and storage space in addition to the auditorium. It would be added to the gymnasium area of the present building.

The gymnasium, which has a stage, and Xavier Commons, which has a raised platform at one end, now are used for school programs and concerts.

Emphasis on the fine arts has expanded at Xavier in the past two years, with the addition of art courses and more extracurricular activities. The band gained nationwide attention last year when the wind ensemble won in national competition the right to a concert at the opening session of the National Catholic Music Educators convention in Cleveland. The school also put on its first fine arts fair last spring.

Xavier was opened in 1959. Possible expansion plans have been under study for the past year. The new college-type schedule introduced last fall was expected to increase the student capacity of the building from 1,100 to about 1,600. The enrollment now is 1,260, and from 1,450 to 1,500 are expected next fall.

Phalists and the winner were selected by John Karel, Paul Dittman and Robert Schroeder, who served as contest judges.

Chilton Seeks Bids On Utility Projects

Daun's Police Chief Selection Rejected By Chilton Council

5-3 Secret Ballot Vote Ends
Move to Name C. J. Kosmosky

CHILTON — A divided City Council Tuesday night defeated Mayor Elmer Daun's appointment of Calumet County Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky to the post of Chilton chief of police. The secret ballot vote was 5-3.

When Daun announced his choice, he stated he had carefully screened all 22 applicants and had finally decided on Kosmosky to fill the police department vacancy which will develop when Police Chief Harry Thompson retires Jan. 31.

Several aldermen questioned why they had not been given an opportunity to review the applications. Daun said they were on file at the city clerk's office for any councilman to see.

Long Silence
Ald. Arno Weller moved for council ratification of the appointment. A 10-minute silence followed Weller's motion before it gained a second from Ald. Emil Jodar. Jodar stipulated the secret ballot.

In defending his appointment, Mayor Daun said he had spent a lot of time reviewing the applications and he felt he had done the best he could in appointing Kosmosky. He then asked if any councilman had any suggestions for the job.

He also asked if anyone on the council could question Kosmosky's experience, honesty and integrity. His challenge went unanswered.

Daun appointed Ald. Ray-

Proposals To Include 4 Alternates

CHILTON — The city council Tuesday decided to call for bids on two major utilities projects — repair of the sewage treatment plant and development of a new well.

Prepared specifications for the sewage treatment plant rejuvenation are comprised of four alternates. After bids are reviewed, the council will decide on the extent of the project by selecting the phases of the project considered to be the most vitally needed.

After the decision is made locally, the bids, plans and specifications must be approved by the state and federal administrators of federal grant in aid funds to determine what percentage of the costs, if any, qualify for federal monies.

Bids on the four alternatives are due Feb. 18.

Eliminate "Frills"
Ald. William Hertel, who expressed opposition to the proposal at the Dec. 17 meeting, Tuesday stated he was willing to go along with it now because of the "frill items" that had been eliminated.

Some of the proposed plant repairs will not qualify for federal aid. A storage building, for which construction costs have been estimated at $15,000, and the effluent sewer and syphon estimated at $31,000 have been eliminated. This would shave $46,000 off the original $245,000 estimate of general and electrical construction costs.

Bids for development of a new well are due Feb. 4.

Utilities commission chairman, Vincent Reinkeber, told the council the static water level of the city's four active wells is dropping drastically.

Water Level Down

Well No. 2 has dropped from 41 feet in 1962 to 50 feet in 1963. Well No. 3 dropped from 21 feet in 1962 to 25 feet in 1963. Well No. 4 plunged from 30 feet in 1962 to a low 60 feet at the end of 1963. The most serious drop was registered at well No. 5 where the level went from 15 feet in 1962 to 85 feet in 1963, Reinkeber said. The well is producing from 60 to 70 per cent of the total water used in the city, he explained.

Total water used in 1963 was down almost 13 million gallons below the 1962 total, he said.

Static water level drops came despite reduced water demands.

Less Rain
Another factor to be considered, according to Reinkeber, is the 10 inches less rainfall in 1963. This would reduce the productivity of the wells, he said.

Reinkeber gave a rundown of the water usage in the city since 1961. In 1961, 125 million gallons; 1962, 153 million gallons and 1963, 145 million gallons.

The new swimming pool at the high school, he explained, has a 180,000 gallon capacity, but he said this could be used in case of a serious fire.

26-Unit Low Rent Construction to Include Apartments for Elderly, Family Houses

ONEIDA—A 26-unit low rent housing project will be constructed here for members of the Oneida Indian tribe, it was announced Monday night at the semi-annual tribal council.

The project, approved by the U.S. Public Housing Authority, will include a community center building, two apartment buildings with quarters for 20 elderly Oneidas and six houses for families.

Site will be a 16 acre wooded tract east of State 54 and south of Duck Creek on east limits of the Oneida community in Brown County.

The site is on former tribal land now owned by Holy Apostles Episcopal Church and will be donated by Bishop William Brady Fond du Lac.

Details of the project, expected to cost about $400,000 in federal funds, were presented by Artley Skenandore, Green Bay, chairman of the newly-formed Oneida Housing Authority.

The plan, prepared by Nichols and Brummel, Green Bay architectural firm, calls for a boulevard leading into the building site. The administration center and apartment buildings will be grouped in one circle. Single-family and duplex housing units will be grouped in circular arrangements off the boulevard.

Plans include outdoor recreation and parking areas.

Our Poetic Charlie Pens Saga Sad About a Man Who Shouldn't Have

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

(There are more than 200 special days, weeks and months for the year 1964).

I will call your bland attention
To a man of my invention,
A man who vowed he would not stray
From observing every special "day."
He swore that he would never rest
Until he'd tried to, as a test,
Fulfill the wants of everyone
"And," he said, "it could be fun."

On New Year's Day he swore Anew
That he would see each day all through;
So starting them, our friend essayed—
And wound up — as you've guessed it—daid.
On Camping Day, our man camped out;
On Foot Care Day he nursed a gout.
For Indian Day he slew a Sioux
On Whiskey Day he had a few.

For Music Week he sang till hoarse;
For "Save the Horse," he did, of course.
On Author's Day he read a book;
In Vision Week he looked and looked.
For Baby Week he trundled kiddies;
On Navy Day he cheered the Middles.
By Bread Day he had bred a scion:
For Humane Week he kissed a lion.

Our man began to tire now;
He rued the day he'd made that vow.
His calendar of special days
Began to show through dreamy haze.
By "Save Up" Days our man was spent
By Landlord Day he'd lost his rent.
When Goose Day came his goose was cooked
When Book Week came our man was booked.

By Pretzel Week his mind was bending
On Inventors Day his Pat. was Pending.
On Boys Club Days he clubbed some boys
On Muffler Day he made some noise.
For Cherry Week he stoned some fruits
On Foot Care Day he knitted boots.
On Car Care Day he cared for cars
When Pipe Day came he puffed cigars.

But still the man just couldn't quit—
For New Suit Day he had a fit;
For Fish Day fare he ordered fillet;
For Pan-Fun Day he acted silet.
On Apple Week he just got saucy
On Employers Day he acted bossy.
When Hell Week came he raised some hell
(He spelled it thus), with Les Bixel.

The chap was getting sadly mixed
For "do it yourself" a cop he fixed;
In Corn Week he just ate his ear;
In Hearing Week he said, "here, here!"
On John Payne Day he felt no pain,
On a rainy day — he let it rain.
On Bandstand Day he praised Paul Horn—ung
On his birthday he just died—aborning.

To his bier he went on Tavern Day
And they buried him, without delay.

McCormack Says U.S. Must Remain Alert to Aggression

BY HOLCOMB B. NOBLE

BOSTON (AP)—House Speaker John W. McCormack says that as long as the Soviet Union adheres to its "policy of subversion" the United States must maintain an alert and powerful military force.

He said the nation must not expect any quick or easy end to the cold war but must continue to be strong both militarily and spiritually if it is to combat Communist aggression.

In an interview with The Associated Press, he also expressed his thoughts on the proposed tax cut, the recent fight for the passage of the foreign aid bill, and civil rights.

First in Succession

After the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, McCormack, as speaker of the House, became first in succession to the presidency in the event of the death of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

McCormack, tall and slender at 72, was quick to scowl at mention of suggestions by some critics that he resign because of his age. He said he is in good health and has no intention of resigning.

On foreign policy, McCormack said that at this time his thinking would not differ from that of President Johnson, who he said has expressed an interest in keeping him fully informed on security and foreign affairs.

He favors continued East-West negotiations and a continued U.S. foreign aid program as affirmative steps to achieving world peace.

"Still," McCormack said, "those who live in a dream world of hope, no matter how honest the view, might be reckless in the world of today."

He then mentioned the congressional battle last month that preceded passage of the 1963 foreign aid bill.

He said the program is becoming harder to get through Congress and will become more so unless there is an "awakening of public opinion to the needs and importance of foreign assistance."

The speaker called the civil rights bill the most important piece of legislation before the Congress, more important than the tax cut bill "because it involves a moral question."

Teacher Calls Race Artificial Concept

Lawrence Anthropologist Claims People More Alike Than Different

"Race is an artificial concept—human beings are much more alike than they are different,"

This was the answer given by Lawrence College Anthropologist Dr. Harold Schneider to "What is Race?", his lecture opening a human rights discussion series being conducted by Fox Cities vocational schools and attended by a capacity audience of 260 Tuesday.

Next in the series will be "What is Prejudice?", at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Lincoln School. Speakers will be Dr. Chester Hill, Lawrence psychologist, and Dr. Gilbert James, University of Wisconsin—Fox Valley Center. In contrasting different people's separation by physical traits establishes relatively small differences Dr. Schneider said. He explained his field anthropology, as a study of living people.

Not Typical
Certain human behavior is equated as typical of all members of a race he said. This is wrong, Schneider claimed. Behavior patterns identified with a certain race are products of cause not the result of essential differences between isolated groups.

Nature doesn't prescribe specific behavior—which is the result of environment and physical characteristics. Laws of behavior are equal for all people and superiority of behavior (for one group of people) cannot be scientifically demonstrated. There is no good cross-cultural evidence of intelligence differences between "races."

In a question and answer period, Schneider replied to the question of how to solve desegregation problems by saying "The sooner differing cultures are thrown into close association with each other, the sooner the differences will diminish." He cited Brazil as the prime example of national population resulting from a thorough genetic blending.

Court Denies Appeal of Oshkosh Man

Post-Crescent News Service
MADISON — Richard Derber, 23, of Oshkosh, today lost his state supreme court appeal from a first degree murder conviction.

Derber is serving a life sentence at Waupun for the fatal shooting of his wife, Judith, in Oshkosh Aug. 31, 1961. He had asked the high court for a writ of habeas corpus, claiming his constitutional rights were denied.

locally as well as nationally it would seem advisable that some provision for discussion and information be made."

at his Winnebago County Municipal Court trial because there was no jury.

A writ of habeas corpus, which would have required a court re-view of whether Derber had been denied his liberty without due process of law.

The supreme court noted that Derber's attorney offered to waive a jury trial at the time of his trial in December, 1961, after Derber had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. Trial Judge Arnold J. Cane approved the offer.

We think that the presence and silent acquiescence of the defendant sufficiently demonstrates the authority of the attorney to speak for the defendant and makes the attorney's statement his own," the supreme court said. "This petitioner's claim has no merit."

Derber shot his estranged wife Judith, 20, twice as she got out of a car in the driveway of a girlfriend's home on Ceape Avenue about 12:30 a.m. Aug. 31, 1961. She died about five hours later at Mercy Hospital.

Derber then fled in his car to Neenah where he gave himself up to the Rev. James Craanen, Assistant at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. On his way to Neenah Derber threw the gun from the car and it has never been found.

He had followed his wife, who was seeking a divorce, from a beer bar where she had gone earlier in the evening with several girlfriends.

the number of students we handle but we will not double the number of taxpayers. It is a bad decade ahead in terms of paying."
"Unquestionably the tuition will go up," he said, "but I hope students will not be paying a very large part because we think education is primarily for the state, not for the individual." The state now pays about 35 per cent of costs, students 15 per cent, and the federal government 25 per cent, with the remainder from other sources such as dormitories, athletic receipts, and private foundations.
Harrington defended his support of federal aid for higher education. He noted in a current Reader's Digest article on the subject, he is the only major educator quoted as saying it is good.
"Wisconsin has received much federal money and the results have been good," he declared. The University has received federal money for 100 years, since the land grant act, he noted.
Farm Benefits
"The agriculture of Wisconsin would not be what it is today if it had not had federal money for research," he said.
Commenting on tuition costs for out-of-state students, now $1,000 a year, Harrington said it is anticipated as the number of Wisconsin students increases, the percentage of undergraduates from other states will decline somewhat.
The university feels children of alumni should be encouraged to come from other states, and would like to do something about the tuition in that case, he added. He mentioned a possible fund raising program so they could come at a lower rate, similar to a program at Indiana University.
Bus System
Discussing growth problems at the Madison campus, Harrington said the University will hold land it has, including farms seven miles out, for possible additional expansion. It is facing the time when it will need an extensive bus system on campus, he noted.
"Actually, the parking problem baffles us completely," he admitted.

Supervisor Also Seeking Council Post
Outagamie County Supv. Desmond Schade (20th) announced Tuesday he would attempt to become Appleton's second supervisor-alderman by seeking the city council seat left vacant by the death of Ald. Ervin Bogdan (20th).
One other Appleton resident took out council nomination papers for the April 17 election as from Madison were Leroy E. Lueberg, new dean of public service, Arlie Mucks, state director of the alumni association; Ed Gibson, director of alumni relations, and Mrs. Harrington.
The Jan. 28 filing deadline draws nearer.
Also getting papers was incumbent Ald. Gerald Wagner (18), 1530 N. Erb St., who has put in 10 years on the common council. A salesman, Wagner has served on major committees and presently is chairman of the public safety committee.
In another development, Atty. James Bayorgeon, 331 E. Randall St., said he will not seek election as 17th Ward alderman. Bayorgeon, an assistant Outagamie County district attorney, was elected by the council recently to fill the unexpired term of the late Donald Mueller.
Schade, 1213 W. Commercial St., a millwright at Kimberly-Clark Corp., was re-elected to his county board post in 1963 for a two-year term. Ald. Al C. Fischer (15th) is the only council member presently on the county board.

Automation Is Keynote For Hospital of Future

Nurses Will be Relieved of Drudgery and Have More Time for Personal Patient Care

BY WILLIAM C. HARRISON
MELNO PARK, Calif. (AP) —Automation of almost everything except nurses will mark the hospital of the future, says a health economist. And cheerful nurses, relieved of drudgery by electronic slaves, will have more time for patients.

Each patient will have a small but private room. His bed, which may not resemble a bed at all, will supply an individual climate the way an incubator does for a premature baby.

Electronic devices will monitor his condition when needed.
The sleeping pill will be replaced by a weak electric current flowing through his head at bedtime.

Spray Dressings
There'll be spray-on dressings, disposable garments and single-dose packaged medications.

The automated hospital of the future will house almost all patients under a doctor's care, further reducing home visits.
The patients may be grouped in the hospital by type of illness rather than degree to receive specialized nursing care.

This broad picture, with variations, is sketched by Dr. Mark S. Blumberg, senior health economist of the Stanford Research Institute. The physician-economist began research into hospital operation about five years ago.

Many of the devices that will automate the hospital and hold down manpower requirements are presently available. Others are on the drawing board.

Heart Failure
Already, in postoperative recovery rooms, a monitor can automatically trigger an electric device to stimulate a faltering heart, for example.

"The bed," says Dr. Blum-berg, "will be broken down into its functions, and some won't look like a bed at all."

Dr. Blumberg envisions the patient's body encased in a box-like tent of light, opaque material. The patient would need no upper sheet and blankets because circulating air would maintain desired temperature and humidity.

Dr. Blumberg says electricity has been used in the United States to induce anesthetic sleep.

"At bedtime the nurse would just place electrodes on the insomnia patient's head, and wham — good night," he explains. A harmless amount of

Jerry Lewis Is Father 6th Time

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)
—Comedian Jerry Lewis' wife, Patti, gave birth Tuesday to their sixth son.
"I'm still going to call it Gloria," quipped Lewis, who had been hoping for his first daughter.
The baby weighed 8 pounds and one ounce.

nurse "will have confidence and be more cheerful."
"And instead of taking temperatures, she will have time to smile and say 'hello.'" Automating the hospital is expensive. The devices probably will forestall some staff increases, Dr. Blumberg comments, but may fail to cut hospital costs.

"They will result in better
